THE BRIAN (KALA SINGH) & NIRMAL RUSSELL LIBRARY OF BRITISH INDIA

Brian and Nirmal, 22 November 1964.

Dominic Winter Auctioneers are pleased to offer for sale the complete and extensive library of the renowned military historian and collector Brian Russell (1940–2022) covering the military history of India in the colonial period.

Brian became interested in Indian culture at a very early age, when he became a pen pal of Joginder Sabharwal of Delhi, through the Wide World Brotherhood, a friendship network founded in 1949. A subsequent invitation to stay with the Sabharwals was eagerly accepted, and Brian set sail for India with a cine camera and paintbrushes in 1959. While there he met his future wife, Nirmal, the younger sister of Joginder, whom he subsequently married in 1964. Brian formally converted to the Sikh religion, and, having settled with his wife in England, returned to India with her numerous times over the following half-century. In this time they travelled the length and breadth of the sub-continent, recording and documenting the graves of thousands of civil and military personnel in India's British cemeteries, many of which had slowly dilapidated or been vandalized over previous decades.

Brian formed a world-class collection of militaria relating to British India, including medals, military uniforms, badges and swords, as well as this fine library of scarce and important historical and antiquarian texts from the 18th century onwards, which is offered in its entirety in this sale.

Highlights include the album of 20 fine hand-coloured lithographic views of Lahore and Amritsar, Original Sketches in the Punjaub. By a Lady, privately published in 1854 (lot 89), illustrated on the front cover of the sale catalogue, the large folio first edition of 26 tinted lithograph plates (on 20 sheets) by George Francklin Atkinson (lot 9), entitled The Campaign in India 1857–58, from drawings made during the eventful period of the Great Mutiny, by George Francklin Atkinson, Captain, Bengal Engineers, illustrating the military operations before Delhi and its neighbourhood, issued by Day & Son in 1859, a quarto first edition (lot 62) of Edward Ives' Voyage from England to India in the Year MDCCLIV and an Historical Narrative of the Squadron and Army in India, under the command of Vice-Admiral Watson and Colonel Clive, in the years 1755, 1756, 1757; including correspondence between the Admiral and the Nabob Serajah Dowlah (London: Edward and Charles Dilly, 1773), as well as a multitude of scarce Indian regimental histories, a substantial number of East India Registers and Army Lists, and contemporary eye-witness accounts of the various Anglo-Indian wars of the period, including the tumultuous uprising of 1857–58.

1 Ali (Shahamat). An Historical Account of the Sikhs and Afghans, in connexion with India and Persia, from the journal of an expedition to Kabul, through the Panjab and the Khaibar Pass, London: John Murray, [circa 1850], hand-coloured frontispiece, ownership inscription 'E. Roberts' to front blank, lightly spotted, all edges gilt, original blue pictorial cloth, rubbed, 8vo, together with: Gleig (G.R.). Sale's Brigade in Afghanistan, with an account of the seisure and defence of Jellalabad, new edition, London: John Murray, 1879, ownership inscription of Charles J Pearce to front free endpaper, half-title, preliminary leaves lightly spotted, 20th-century green morocco gilt, Library blindstamps to covers, portion of covers stained, rubbed, 8vo, plus

Eyre (Vincent). The Military Operations at Cabul, which ended in the retreat and destruction of the British Army, January 1842, with a journal of imprisonment in Afghanistan, 2nd edition, London: John Murray, 1843, folding map, 2 leaves of publisher's advertisements at rear, a few light spots, original green pictorial cloth gilt, rebaked with original spine relaid (endpapers and blanks renewed), rubbed, 8vo, with another copy of Eyre's Cabul (2nd edition, 1843) and Lady Sale's A Journal of the Disasters in Afghanistan, 1841-2 (Eighth thousand, 1844)

The first title is scarce in any form. We can only trace two copies of the title appearing at auction in the last 35 years.

£200 - £300

2 Anderson (Captain R.P.) A Personal Journal of the Siege of Lucknow... edited, with a preface and introduction by T. Carnegie Anderson, 1st edition, London: W. Thacker and Co., 1858, 6 pp. advertisements at rear, a little light soiling, water stains to endpapers (front endpaper repaired), modern calf upper cover and spine, original lower cover retained (some fading and stains), 8vo, together with Raikes (Charles). Notes on the Revolt in the North-Western Provinces of India, 1st edition, London: Longman, Brown, Green, Longmans & Roberts, 1858, folding table, advertisements at rear (a few frayed margins), half title detaching, modern half morocco, 8vo, plus Gardiner (General Sir Robert). Cursory View of the Present Crisis in India: together with the Military Power of England, respectfully addressed to the Honourable the Members of the House of Commons, 1st edition, London: Byfield, Hawksworth & Co., 1857, 34 pp., some light spotting, all edges gilt, contemporary red calf gilt, upper cover detaching, joints and edges rubbed, 8vo, with three others: J.W. Shepherd's A Personal Narrative of the Outbreak and Massacre at Cawnpore during the Sepoy Revolt of 1857, 3rd edition, revised and enlarged, Lucknow, 1886, Mutiny Memoirs being Personal Reminiscences of the Great Sepoy Revolt of 1857, by Colonel A.R.D. Mackenzie, Allahabad, 1891, and The First Shot in 1857, by an Indian Colonel (Charles Richard Matthews), privately printed, circa 1910

- 4 Archer (Edward Caulfield). Tours in Upper India, and in parts of the Himalaya Mountains; with Accounts of the Courts of the Native Princes, 2 volumes, 1st edition, London: Richard Bentley, 1833, neat ownership inscription & Kidwell Park, Maidenhead ink stamp to head of each title, occasional light spotting, contemporary green calf gilt, rebaked, red morocco title label lettered in gilt, rubbed, 8vo

"Archer's journal describes the detailed ceremonies of official visits to the King of Oudh, the Rajah of Bharatpur and the King of Delhi. Amongst the description of official inspection of troops and fortifications, he added superb stories of the history associated with the numerous locales, of the best of Mughal architecture, and about the richness of the agrarian landscape. In the course of this eighteen-month period, he participated in four tours including visits to Lucknow, Agra, Delhi, and Simla. Archer's narrative offers an important view of the state of Upper India at the close of the 1820s" (John F. Riddick, The History of British India: A Chronology, 2006).

19 Burnes (James). A Narrative of a Visit to the Court of Sind; A Sketch of the History of Cutch, from its first connexion with the British Government in India till the conclusion of the treaty of 1819; and some remarks on the medical topography of Bhooj, Edinburgh: Robert Cadell; and Whittaker, Treacher, & Arnot, London, [1831], two engraved folding maps, with outline colouring (Sketch of a Route from Bhooj to Hyderabad, traversed by James Burnes in 1827-8, & A Sketch of the Runn and countries adjacent to illustrate a Memoir on its formation, and the alterations of the Eastern Branch of the Indus), folding genealogical table of the Talpoor Family, first map torn without loss, second map and table now loose, errata leaf at end, and 3pp. text printed in double column titled Dr. Burne's overland journey from India, taken from the Montrose Review of 23rd and 30th May 1834, first map with three pressed flowers adhering to verso, small printed label of James Burnes M.D., L.L.D., F.R.S. to foot of front pastedown, binders ticket of J. B. Dunlop, 4 India Place, Edinburgh to rear pastedown, contemporary black half calf, rubbed and slight wear to joints and edges, 8vo

First UK edition, published two years after the unprocurable Bombay edition of 1829, which was privately printed "for the perusal of the author's friends". Copies dated 1831 exist with Stark, the printer, substituted in the imprint for Cadell.

Burnes arrived in Bombay in 1821 "and was successful in the open competition for the office of surgeon to the residency of Cutch. He volunteered to accompany the force which, in 1825, expelled the Sindians who had devastated Cutch and forced the British brigades to retire to Bhuj. The amirs of Sind then invited him to visit them as 'the most skilful of physicians and their best friend, and the cementer of the bonds of amity between the two governments', and on his return he was complimented by the government on the zeal and ability he had displayed at Cutch and Hyderabad. His account of his visit to Sind, written as an official report to the resident at Cutch, is an excellent account of the country, and was a valuable contribution to the geography of India" (ODNB).

25 [Clive, Robert, Baron Clive of Plessey, 1725-1774]. A True Narrative and Discovery of several very remarkable passages relating to the Horrid Popish Plot: as they fell within the knowledge of Mr. Miles Prance of Covent-Garden, Goldsmith..., 1st edition, London: Printed for Dorman Newman, 1679, licence leaf, engraved portrait frontispiece of Miles Prance by R. White, 4-page Epistle Dedicatory, and 40pp. of main text, engraved bookplate of Robert Lord Clive to verso of front board, contemporary mottled full calf, spine gilt, some light wear to lower joint and outer corners, with small loss to head and foot of spine, folio Wing P3177.

Provenance: Robert Clive, 1st Baron Clive, KB, FRS (1725 - 1774), also known as Clive of India (bookplate).

A courageous, resourceful but ruthless military commander, Major-General Robert Clive became the first British Governor of the Bengal Presidency, using his political and military influence to amass a personal fortune. Clive's uncertain reputation was neatly encapsulated in Thomas Macaulay's famous description of him: "Clive, like most men who are born with strong passions and tried by strong temptations, committed great faults, but every person who takes a fair and enlightened view of his whole career must admit that our island, so fertile in heroes and statesmen, has scarcely ever produced a man more truly great either in arms or in council." Given Clive of India's inclination for political machination, his ownership of this first-hand account by the Catholic perjurer Miles Prance, who became embroiled in the infamous but fictitious Popish Plot conspiracy to assassinate King Charles II, is unsurprising. On the news of the death of Sir Edmund Berry Godfrey in 1678, Miles Prance became an object of suspicion. Imprisoned in Newgate, Prance confessed and recanted several times, resulting in the execution of Henry Berry, Robert Green, and Lawrence Hill for the murder. It is likely the three men executed were innocent.

ESTC T140797 (first work).

The second publication included in this bound volume is a rare propaganda publication printed at the British military base at Fort St. George in Calcutta, which provides transcriptions of 'secret' documents that the British apparently found in the Palace of Seringapatam, including Tippoo Sultuan's correspondence with the French. When the French army under Napoleon made a push for India in 1798, the British attacked Tippoo's forces, igniting the Fourth Anglo-Mysore War. This publication sought to discredit the Tiger of Mysore as a traitor and includes correspondence between Tipu and the French, as well as the ruler of what was to become Afghanistan, Zaman Shah Durrani. Persian texts are here translated by Neil Benjamin Edmondstone (1765-1841).

55* After Henry Singleton (1766-1839). The Assault and Taking of Seringapatam, & The Surrender of Two Sons of Tippoo Sulatun, 1801 & 1802, two large-scale stipple engravings by Anthony Cardon after Henry Singleton, on heavy laid paper, the first with hand-colouring, published by Anthony Cardon and L. N. & J. Schiavonetti, London, on October 15th 1801 and August 15th 1802 respectively, with dedication to lower margin, each with circular inkstamp to verso of Kerr & Co., Calcutta, some marks and soiling, mainly to margins, the first with short closed tear to outer blank left margin (without loss), plate size 580 x 680 mm (23 x 27 ins), sheet size 620 x 730 mm (24 1/2 x 28 3/4 ins)

Two fine stipple engravings from the set of four plates depicting the capture of Seringapatam and the defeat of the 'Tiger of Mysore' Tipu Sahib, Sultan of Mysore (1753-1799), the other two being The Last Effort and Fall of Tippoo Sultan and The Body of Tippoo Sultan Recognised by his Family.

From his fortress at Seringapatam, an island fort in the river Kaveri just north of Mysore, Tipu held a last stand against the British, led by Colonel Wellesley, later Duke of Wellington. The battle made Wellesley's military career, and he remained in India as Governor of Seringapatam for five years. Tipu was killed during fierce fighting, and according to Wellesley's biographer, Elizabeth Longford, was 'shot dead by a British soldier who fancied the jewel in his turban'.

The first plate shows East India Company forces capturing Seringapatam, the fortress capital of Tipu Sultan on the 4th of May 1799, the second plate depicts the two sons of Tipu Sultan descending the steps of the palace towards a group of English officers led by Major General Baird.

Richard, Marquis]. Notes Relative to the Peace concluded between the British Government and the Marhatta Chieftains, and to the various questions arising out of the terms of the Pacification, London: John Stockdale, 1805, 110pp., bound with History of all the Events and Transactions which have taken place in India..., London: John Stockdale, 1805, 2 volumes in one, 6 folding hand-coloured maps, a little spotting, a few light damp-stains, contemporary speckled half calf gilt, some wear, lacking head cap, 4to

The restoration of the Peshwa in 1802 proved to be the prelude to the Mahratha War against Cindia and the Raja of Berar in which Richard Wellesley's brother Arthur took a leading role. French influence was largely extinguished as a consequence, and the East-India Company transformed into an imperial pow

76 [Muir, William]. Agra in the Mutiny, and the Family Life of W. & E. H. Muir in the Fort, 1857, A Sketch for their Children, no publisher, 1896, mounted photographic frontispiece, 2 further mounted photographic plates, presentation copy inscribed by the author 'Mrs Murray with W. & E. H. Muir's kind love 1897' to half-title, errata slip to page 54, minor spotting, original maroon cloth gilt, small 4to

A scarce work, Copac only lists two copies in UK institutions (British Library & University of Edinburgh).

Muir was an Indian administrator who was stationed successively at Cawnpore, Bundelkhand, and Fatehpur. The sepoy Mutiny broke out at Meerut on 10 May 1857 and spread rapidly. Muir, at Agra, where the situation was soon critical, advised vigorous action from the first. Akbar's great fort of Agra became the refuge of the Christians. Muir vividly told the story of his experience for his children in his Agra in the Mutiny (1896). Soon there was neither government nor revenue; but as head of the intelligence department Muir held the dangerous position of centre of communication between the viceroy, Lord Canning, and the civil and military authorities right across India to Delhi, Lahore, and Peshawar, to Gwalior, Indore, and Bombay. Provenance: Montagu Egerton Loftus (1860-1934), Vice-Consul in Corsica and a King's Messenger.

Abbey, Travel 476; Mendelssohn III, pp. 630-31.

Fanny Parks (née Frances Susanna Archer, 1794-1875) arrived in India in 1822, as the wife of Charles Crawford Parkes, a civil servant in the East India Company. Stationed at Allahabad, she travelled extensively, often on her own, visiting Agra, Fatehgarh, Cawnpore, Meerut, Delhi, and Landour in the Himalayas. As a woman she was able to enter the Zenana, witnessing marriage and religious ceremonies not reported on by male writers. Unlike most of her English female contemporaries in India, she immersed herself in Indian culture, making this one of the most readable travel memoirs of the period. According to ODNB "Her fluent Hindustani enabled her to penetrate Indian life, and she adopted some Indian customs, signing her writing and drawings in Persian script... and playing the sitar." The second volume concludes with chapters on Cape Town and South Africa.

86 Pearse (Hugh). Soldier and Traveller, Memoirs of Alexander Gardner, Colonel of Artillery in the service of Maharaja Ranjit Singh, 1st edition, London: William Blackwood and Sons, 1898, 2 illustrations (including frontispiece), 2 maps, 32pp. publisher's catalogue to rear, light scattered spotting, original red cloth gilt, lightly rubbed, 8vo

Howego, II, G3; Riddick 111; Yakushi P38.

'An adventurer and soldier of fortune, Gardner (1785-1877) travelled through much of Central Asia and Afghanistan before joining the service of Ranjit Singh in 1832. Carefully edited by Major Pearse, Gardner's memoirs tell in a rough-hewn fashion of his experiences as the commander of Sikh artillery in the 1835 conflict with Afghanistan over control of the Peshawar Valley. Similarly, Gardner gives an accounting of the bloody internal struggle for control of the Sikh State following the death of Ranjit Singh. With the imposition of British dominion over the Sikhs at the conclusion of the First Sikh War of 1846, Gardner's memoirs recede into the record of his retirement years spent in the Vale of Kashmir' (Riddick).

Provenance: Elizabeth Brown Greenly (1771-1839), later Lady Elizabeth Coffin-Greenly, patron and artist, born at Titley Court, Herefordshire, on the 27th November, 1771, the only child of William Greenly and his wife Elizabeth (née Brown). William Greenly was said to have been 'an excellent scholar and antiquary, and a man of great goodness of heart and simple manners'. Elizabeth, or Eliza as she was known, married Admiral Sir Isaac Coffin, a man more than ten years her senior, and an erratic seafarer who suffered from gout. Eliza was said to have 'some eccentric habits' and after the first year of marriage he went to visit friends and stayed away for seven years. Eliza formed a significant library at Titley Court, which was sold in these rooms in 2016.

Cox I, 306. - Lowndes II, 1520. Thomas Maurice, Anglican clergyman and Orientalist, "was one of the first to popularize Eastern history and religions." (Cox I, 305) With single-page manuscript letter signed by Thomas Maurice to Elizabeth Greenly, dated 19 Princes Street, Cavendish Square [London], 5th July 1798, thanking her for her subscription to his History of India. 'I have this day sent to Messrs Shephard & Addlington my first volume, hot-pressed, and with the best plates I could select. I have taken the liberty to add to it, ... my Elegy on my great and lamented friend, Sir William Jones, and The Crisis, a poem which I have just published.'

A further Supplement to the Modern History of Hindostan was published in 1810, entitled Supplement to The Modern History of India : bringing that history down to the year of our Lord 1788, when the imperial Mogul dynasty, by the blinding and dethronement of Shah Aulum, virtually became extinct.

Mullens & Swann pp. 401-3; Nissen IVB 627.

'One of our most valuable illustrated works on ornithology, in fact before the publication of Lord Lilford's Birds of the British Islands it stood sui generis' (Mullens & Swann). The first edition was published between 1835 and 1841, with 313 plates. According to Mullens and Swann, the second issue (published in 1837-44) 'is identical in appearance but is printed on stouter paper, and has a number of plates containing figures of eggs in the lower corners which are not in the first issue'. However, the concurrence of the different issues and editions means that plates were often interchanged or duplicated, and Meyer often produced extra plates for friends and associates, meaning that 'hardly any two copies ... [are] alike' (ibid.).

Burden, Mapping of North America, 12, state 6. One of the most important maps of the 16th century which brought the name 'America' into the lexicon. It is the earliest to show all of North and South America in a true continental form with a continuous coastline. South America is more accurately mapped than the North. Japan (Zipangri) is shown as being close to modern-day California, the Yucatan peninsula is shown as an island and the lake at Temistitan is connected to the Gulf of Mexico. The northeastern portion - labelled 'Francisca' - has a settlement called 'C. Britonum' indicative of British early exploration and fishing in the area. A vignette on the east coast of South America shows tree branches adorned with human limbs and the word 'Canibali', leaving the viewer in no doubt as to the dangers awaiting travellers to this region. The large ship in the Pacific Ocean is the 'Victoria', the only surviving ship of five on Magellan's voyage. The two flags on the map are those of Spain and Portugal, emphasising the influence of these two European powers in the region.

Scarce. The first geological map of France. Armand Dufrénoy and Léonce Elie de Beaumont visited England to learn the technique of geological cartography from George Bellas Greenough, who had published a six-sheet geological map of England in 1820. The pair split France between them and began their research in 1825. They finished their surveying in 1836 and then took another five years preparing and engraving the map and writing the accompanying text. This monumental effort was recognised when Dufrénoy and Elie de Beaumont were made commanders of the Légion d'Honneur, and the Geological Society of London awarded them the Wollaston Medal, their highest award.

282* West Africa. Van Linschoten (Jan Huygen), Typus Orarum Maritimarum Guineae, Manicongo, & Angolae ultra Promontorium Bonae Spei susq..., Amsterdam, circa 1596, hand-coloured map engraved by Arnold Florent van Langren, inset horizon profiles of Ascension Island and St Helena, compass rose and numerous rhumb lines, large and ornate strapwork cartouche, light overall toning, old folds, occasional marginal closed tears, 390 x 525 mm, mounted, framed and glazed

Originally published in Linschoten's 'Itinerario'. One of the most spectacular and decorative late 16th-century maps of Africa. Although Linschoten was Dutch, he was employed by the Portuguese Archbishop of Goa and his 'Itinerario...' contained many maps derived from Portuguese sources. The prominent inset views of the islands of Ascension and St. Helena were both important Portuguese possessions. The very small portrait of a bearded man wearing a hat which is set into the strapwork margins of the two islands is probably a portrait of the engraver, Arnold van Langren.

366 Bible [English]. The Bible, that is, the Holy Scriptures contained in the Olde and Newe Testament, translated according to the Ebrew and Greeke, and conferred with the best translations in divers languages..., Imprinted at London [i.e. Amsterdam]: by the Deputies of Christopher Barker, 1599(?), two initial blanks present (creased, first blank with large letterpress signature 'A' at foot and ownership signature at head of John Bourne of Alford? 29th July 1846), first general title present with woodcut frame border (having 24 small compartments, showing on the left the tents of the twelve tribes, and on the right figures of the twelve Apostles, the inner parts exhibits the four Evangelists), second general title present with woodcut illustration of the crossing of the Red Sea (ownership signature of John Bourne at head), New Testament title within decorative woodcut border (matching border of first general title), few woodcut illustrations and decorative initials, double-column roman type, bound without Apocrypha (as often), sewing at front broken and all leaves before gathering E detached (with some consequent fraying to margins), lacks 2Q8 (blank at end of Old Testament), bound with at rear an incomplete Book of Psalms, with several leaves detached and frayed at rear of volume, borders and columns red-ruled throughout volume, some light damp staining, occasional light dust-soiling and few marks, marbled pastedowns torn and frayed to edges (without free endpapers), armorial bookplate of John Bourne of Dalby to upper pastedown, all edges gilt, 17th century gilt decorated brown morocco, lacking lower panel of spine, board detached, worn, lacking ties, 4to (22.8 x 17 cm)

Herbert 248; Darlow & Moule 188, and STC 2174.

Geneva version; with Thomson's NT, but with Junius' Revelation. The section containing the Apocrypha, though included in the list of books, was apparently omitted from all except a few copies. These Bibles were printed probably for English use in the Low Countries. There are many editions bearing this date, which while agreeing closely are yet distinct (some possibly published as late as 1640). No doubt a certain number of copies were originally issued in a mixed state. The nominal date, 1599, for most editions is probably untrue in almost every case; they were apparently published at different times in Amsterdam and Dort and adopted by Barker. This edition with Esther i. 1 '... seuen and twen- l ty prouinces'. This, according to Pocock, is probably the earliest of these editions, as it abounds more than any others in gross errors: e.g. Song of Solomon v. 3, defile for put; Isaiah xxx. 32, beards for harps, xxxvi. 12, thing for dung; Matt. xxiv. 50, line repeated. Perhaps printed at Amsterdam about 1599. Some of the copies have variant leaves (Herbert, Darlow & Moule).

367 Guicciardini (Francesco). The Historie of Guicciardin: containing the Warres of Italie and other partes, continued for manie yeares under sundrie Kings and Princes, together with the variations and accidents of the same..., reduced into English by Geffray Fenton, 2nd edition, London: Richard Field, 1599, title with printer's woodcut device and early manuscript signatures of T. Fletcher and inscription "William Walter bought at Plymouth 17 June 1704", without first and last blank leaves (A1 & 4H6), some damp stains, browning and scattered spotting, armorial bookplate of Robert Parker to upper pastedown, 18th-century half calf (possibly utilizing original boards), leather to spine scorched and split with loss, folio (17.5 x 26.7 cm)

ESTC S120758; Pforzheimer 442; PMM 85; STC 12459.

Described in PMM as "The First History of Europe", Guicciardini's work was originally published posthumously by his nephew, Agnolo Guicciardini, with abridged versions appearing from 1544 and the complete text was not published until the Venice edition of 1567. By the end of the 16th century there had been at least ten editions in Italian and it had been translated into Latin, English, French, Spanish, German and Dutch. Geoffrey Fenton's English translation was first published in 1579.

ESTC S107210; Pforzheimer 178.

The seventh edition. "This edition was considerably revised mainly with the aid of Francis Thynne. It is the earliest in which thorough punctuation was attempted, and in many other ways it is a distinct improvement upon Speght's first edition. Two hiterto unprinted pieces are inserted, one non-Chaucerian" (Pforzheimer).

393 [Erotical]. The Rambler's Magazine or Frolicsome Companion, volume 2, nos. 13-18 bound as 1, September 1827 to February 1828, drop-head titles to each part, paginated as one (pp. 1-180) with engraved frontispiece to each part, some spotting, offsetting and occasional browning, 19th-century half calf gilt over marbled boards, spine titled 'Rambler's Magazine 3', rubbed, 8vo Very rare, no other copies of any issues of this salacious periodical have been traced. Horace Bleackley noted in Notes and Queries (12 S.II. 19 August 1916, p. 145) that the first number appeared in August 1826. It was published by William Dugdale (1800-1868), see Index Librorum Prohibitorum, pp. 127,192. Bleackley notes that it 'ran, at all events, into 10 numbers, that of June, 1827, being the last I have seen. In spite of their coarseness these magazines are invaluable to students of the period, supplying as they do a wealth of biographical information that cannot be found elsewhere ... their importance, in casting a light upon our social history cannot be denied, and they should not be disregarded because of their obscenity'.

397 Loggin (Lady Lena Campbell). Sir John Loggin and Duleep Singh, with an Introduction by Colonel G.B. Malleson, 1st edition, London: W.H. Allen & Co., 1890, portrait frontispiece, large folding map at rear, a little scattered spotting and crude closed tear repair to pp. 459/60 without loss of text, engraved armorial bookplate of Frederick Duleep Singh of Old Buckenham Hall, Norfolk, and with his initialled pencil note to facing free endpaper recto, 'Lady Loggin died in June 1904. This book is not altogether reliable. She wrote from memory probably and my father assured me some of her details were inaccurate, especially the story of the Queen and the Koh-i-noor!', contemporary half calf gilt over marbled boards with red leather spine label, rubbed, spine faded, a little leather surface loss and slightly cracked on joints, 8vo

Prince Frederick Victor Duleep Singh (1868-1926) was a younger son of Maharajah Duleep Singh (1838-1893), the last Maharajah of the Sikh Empire. He acquired Old Buckenham Hall in 1897 and served with Yeomanry regiment from 1893 to 1919.

Sir John Loggin (1809-1863) was a Scottish surgeon in British India, best remembered as the guardian of Maharajah Duleep Singh and the Koh-i-noor diamond following the annexation of Punjab and Last Treaty of Lahore. Lady Loggin was also closely involved in bringing up Duleep Singh, along with her husband, and she was involved in the formal presentation of the Koh-i-noor by Duleep to Queen Victoria.

398* Illuminated Leaf. Leaf fragment from a medieval antiphonal, with a miniature attributed to the 'Spanish Forger', c. 15th century and early 20th century, illuminated manuscript on vellum in blue, red, green, brown, violet and burnished gold, depicting a scene of the arrival of a woman with halo arriving in a boat at a medieval town with castle and being greeted by a group of four people, red, blue and gilt border with thin white fillet lines and corner roses, a little craquelure, fragment of medieval musical notation to verso, 195 x 150 mm

The Spanish Forger was one of the most prolific forgers, with hundreds of works now identified. His identity remains unknown but he was probably active in the 1890s and early 20th century, taking his ideas from the chromolithographic illustrations in books about the Middle Ages by Lacroix and others, published in Paris. The figures on land here show some pointed shoes but there are no low-cut dresses or shapely male legs on view as is often the case with his works.

INFORMATION FOR BUYERS

AFTER THE AUCTION

Online Results: If you weren't present or able to follow the auction live, you can find results for the sale on our website shortly after the sale has ended.

Payment: The price you pay is the amount at which the auctioneer's hammer falls (the hammer price), plus a buyer's premium (a percentage of the final hammer price) and vat where applicable. You will be issued with an invoice made out to the name and address provided on your registration form.

Please note successful bids made via live bidding cannot be invoiced or paid for until the day after an auction. A live bidding fee of 3% + VAT (Dominic Winter / Invaluable) or 4.95% + VAT (the-saleroom) will be added to your invoice.

METHODS OF PAYMENT

Cheque: Cheques will only be accepted on the day of the sale by prior arrangement (please contact our office for further information). Cheques by post will be accepted but a period of 5 working days will be required for the cheque to clear before purchases can be collected or posted.

Cash: Payments can be made at the Cashier's Office, either during or after the sale.

Debit Card: There is no additional charge for purchases made with debit cards in the UK.

Credit Cards: We accept Visa and Mastercard. It is advisable to let your card provider know in advance if you are intending to purchase. This reduces the time needed to obtain authorisation when the payment is made.

Bank Transfer: All transfers must state the relevant invoice number. If transferring from a foreign currency, the amount we receive must be the total due after the currency conversion and the deduction of any bank charges.

Note to Overseas Clients: All payments must be made by bank transfer only. No card payments will be accepted unless by special prior arrangements with the auctioneers.

Collection/Postage/Delivery: If you attend the auction in person and are successful in your bid, you are free to collect your item once payment has been made.

Successful commission or live bids will be invoiced to you the day after the sale. When it is possible for our in-house packing department to send your purchase(s), a charge for postage/packing/insurance will be included in your invoice. Where it is not possible for our in-house packing department to send your item you will be required to make your own arrangements or to contact Mailboxes etc (tel: 01793 525009) or Pack and Send (tel: 01635 887237) who may be able to help.

We provide a monthly delivery service to Central London, usually on Wednesday of the week following an auction. Payment must be received before this option can be requested. A charge will be added to your invoice for this service.

ARTIST'S RESALE RIGHT LAW ("DROIT DE SUITE")

Lots marked with AR next to the lot number may be subject to Droit de Suite.

Droit de Suite is payable on the hammer price of any artwork sold in the lifetime of the artist, or within 70 years of the artist's death. The buyer agrees to pay Dominic Winter Auctioneers Ltd. an amount equal to the resale royalty and we will pay such amount to the artist's collecting agent. Resale royalty applies where the Hammer price is 1,000 Euros or more and the amount cannot be more than 12,500 Euros per lot.

The amount is calculated as follows:

Royalty For the Portion of the Hammer Price (in Euros)

4.00% up to 50,000

3.00% between 50,000.01 and 200,000

1.00% between 200,000.01 and 350,000

0.50% between 350,000.01 and 500,000

Invoices will, as usual, be issued in Pounds Sterling. For the purposes of calculating the resale royalty the Pounds Sterling/Euro rate of exchange will be the European Central Bank reference rate on the day of the sale.

Please refer to the DACS website www.dacs.org.uk and the Artists' Collecting Society website www.artistscollectingsociety.org for further details.

CONDITIONS OF SALE AND BUSINESS

1. The Seller warrants to the Auctioneer and the buyer that he is the true owner or is properly authorised to sell the property by the true owner and is able to transfer good and marketable title to the property free from any third party claims.
2. (a) The highest bidder to be the buyer. If during the auction the Auctioneer considers that a dispute has arisen he has absolute authority to settle it or re-offer the lot. The Auctioneer may at his sole discretion determine the advance of bidding or refuse a bid, divide any lot, combine any two or more lots or withdraw any lot without prior notice.
(b) Where goods are bought at auction by a buyer who has entered into an agreement with another or others that the other or others (or some of them) shall abstain from bidding for the goods and the buyer or other party or one of the other parties is a dealer (as defined in the Auction Biddings Agreement Act 1927) the buyer warrants that the goods are bought bona fide on joint account.
3. The buyer shall pay the price at which a lot is knocked down by the Auctioneer to the buyer ("the hammer price") together with a premium of 20% of the hammer price. Where the lot is marked by an asterisk the premium will be subject to VAT at 20% which under the Auctioneer's Margin Scheme will form part of the buyer's premium on our invoice and will not be separately identified (the premium added to the hammer price will hereafter collectively be referred to as "the total sum due"). By making any bid the buyer acknowledges that his attention has been drawn to the fact that on the sale of any lot the Auctioneer will receive from the seller commission at its usual rates in addition to the said premium of 20% and assents to the Auctioneer receiving the said commission.
4. (a) The buyer shall forthwith upon the purchase give in his name and permanent address and pay to the Auctioneer immediately after the conclusion of the auction the total sum due.
(b) The buyer may be required to pay down during the course of the sale the whole or any part of the total sum due, and if he fails to do so after such request the lot or lots may at the Auctioneer's absolute discretion be put up again and resold immediately.
(c) The buyer shall at his own expense take away any lot or lots purchased no later than five working days after the auction day.
(d) The Auctioneer may at his own discretion agree credit terms with a buyer and extend the time limits for collection in special cases but otherwise payment shall be deemed to have been made only after the Auctioneer has received cash or a sterling banker's draft or the buyer's cheque has been cleared.
5. (a) If the buyer fails to pay for or take away any lot or lots pursuant to clause 4 or breaches any other condition of that clause the Auctioneer as agent for the seller shall be entitled after consultation with the seller to exercise one or other of the following rights:
(i) Rescind the sale of that or any other lots sold to the buyer who defaults and re-sell the lot or lots whereupon the defaulting buyer shall pay to the Auctioneer any shortfall between the proceeds of that sale after deduction of costs of re-sale and the total sum due. Any surplus shall belong to the seller.
(ii) Proceed for damages for breach of contract.
(b) Without prejudice to the Auctioneer's rights hereunder if any lots or lots are not collected within five days or such longer period as the Auctioneer may have agreed otherwise, the Auctioneer may charge the buyer a storage charge of £1.00 + VAT at the current rate per lot per day.
(c) Ownership of the lot purchased shall not pass to the buyer until he has paid to the Auctioneer the total sum due.
6. (a) The seller shall be entitled to place a reserve on any lot and the Auctioneer shall have the right to bid on behalf of the seller for any lot on which a reserve has been placed. A seller may not bid on any lot on which a reserve has been placed.
(b) Where any lot fails to sell, the Auctioneer shall notify the seller accordingly. The seller shall make arrangements either to re-offer the lot for sale or to collect the lot and may be asked to pay a commission not exceeding 50% of the selling commission and any special expenses incurred in cataloguing the lot.
(c) If such arrangements are not made within seven days of the notification the Auctioneer is empowered to sell the lot by auction or by private treaty at not less than the reserve price and to receive from the seller the normal selling commission and special expenses.
7. Any representation or statement by the Auctioneer in any catalogue, brochure or advertisement of forthcoming sales as to authorship, attribution, genuineness, origin, date, age, provenance, condition or estimated selling price is a statement of opinion only. Every person interested should exercise and rely on his own judgement as to such matters and neither the Auctioneer nor his servants or agents are responsible for the correctness of such opinions. No warranty whatsoever is given by the Auctioneer or the seller in respect of any lot and any express or implied warranties are hereby excluded.
8. (a) Notwithstanding any other terms of these conditions, if within fourteen days of the sale the Auctioneer has received from the buyer of any lot notice in writing that in his view the lot is a deliberate forgery and within fourteen days after such notification the buyer returns the same to the Auctioneer in the same condition as at the time of the sale and satisfies the Auctioneer that considered in the light of the entry in the catalogue the lot is a deliberate forgery then the sale of the lot will be rescinded and the purchase price of the same refunded. "A deliberate forgery" means a lot made with intention to deceive.
(b) A buyer's claim under this condition shall be limited to any amount paid to the Auctioneer for the lot and for the purpose of this condition the buyer shall be the person to whom the original invoice was made out by the Auctioneer.
9. Lots may be removed during the sale after full settlement in accordance with 4(d) hereof.
10. All goods delivered to the Auctioneer's premises will be deemed to be delivered for sale by auction unless otherwise stated in writing and will be catalogued and sold at the Auctioneer's discretion and accepted by the Auctioneer subject to all these conditions. In the case of miscellaneous books, the Auctioneer reserves the right to extract and dispose of books that, in the opinion of the Auctioneer at his absolute discretion, have no saleable value and, therefore, might detract from the saleability of the rest of the lot and the Auctioneer shall incur no liability to the seller, in respect of the books disposed of. By delivering the goods to the Auctioneer for inclusion in his auction sales each seller acknowledges that he/she accepts and agrees to all the conditions.
11. (a) Unless otherwise instructed in writing all goods on the Auctioneer's premises and in their custody will be held insured against the risks of fire, burglary, water damage and accidental breakage or damage. The value of the goods so covered will be the hammer price, or in the case of unsold lots the lower estimate, or in the case of loss or damage prior to the sale that which the specialised staff of the Auctioneer shall in their absolute discretion estimate to be the auction value of such goods.
(b) The Auctioneer shall not be responsible for damage to or the loss, theft, or destruction of any goods not so insured because of the owner's written instructions.
12. The Auctioneer shall remit the proceeds of the sale to the seller thirty days after the day of the auction provided that the Auctioneer has received the total sum due from the buyer. In all other cases the Auctioneer will remit the proceeds of the sale to the seller within seven days of the receipt by the Auctioneer of the total sum due. The Auctioneer will not be deemed to have received the total sum due until after any cheque delivered by the buyer has been cleared. In the event of the Auctioneer exercising his right to rescind the sale his obligation to the seller hereunder lapses.
13. In the case of the seller withdrawing instructions to the Auctioneer to sell any lot or lots, the Auctioneer may charge a fee of 12.5% of the Auctioneer's middle estimate of the auction price of the lot withdrawn together with Value Added Tax thereon and any expenses incurred in respect of the lot or lots.
14. The Auctioneer's current standard notices and information (i.e. Collation and Amendments) will apply to any contract with the Auctioneer as if incorporated herein.
15. These conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English Law.
