IMPORTANT SALE INFORMATION: COVID-19

With the prospect of the final stage of lockdown easing being introduced in England on Monday 19 July we hope to introduce new view day and sale day plans for the sales on 19-21 July as set out below. Please be advised that customers should phone ahead and tell us they are coming. Paying for lots and clearing on the sale days will be permitted. Signing in and out will continue to be required as will the wearing of face masks at all times while inside the building. Social distancing with other customers and members of staff continues to be necessary and courteous. Hand sanitiser is available throughout the building – please use it. Please observe all the signage for navigating the building and respect any 'no entry' signs you may encounter. There will be no canteen facilities except the drinking water dispenser and only one unisex toilet for customers is available (the disabled toilet). Customers will not be allowed to congregate to talk or eat and drink inside the building but will have use of the outside patio and car park area. A number of cafes and pubs with facilities are within a few minutes' drive and we will be happy to give directions and recommend. While these procedures are still far from ideal we hope customers will appreciate these positive steps back towards a new normal and hope that we can ease these restrictions further in the coming months.

Viewing and Sale Day arrangements:

- Monday 19 July: Viewing for all 3 sales by appointment only. Please phone or email Jenny Bradley to book an appointment.
- Tuesday 20 July: Public view day for all 3 sales, 9-5. As a courtesy please phone or email to advise us you are coming and leaving a contact phone number.
- Wednesday 21 July: Book sale day with saleroom attendance from 9am. Viewing for Fine Art & Antiques sales 9-5.
- Thursday 22 July: Antiques & Textiles sale day with saleroom attendance from 9am. Viewing for Fine Art Sale 9-5.
- Friday 23 July: Fine Art Sale day with saleroom attendance from 9am.

35 Moryson (Fynes). An Itinerary... Containing his Ten Yeeres Travell through the Twelve Dominions of Germany, Bohmerland, Switzerland, Netherland, Denmarke, Poland, Italy, Turkey, France, England, Scotland, and Ireland, 3 parts in one, 1st edition, London: John Beale, 1617, woodcut maps and plans, initials and ornaments, title (some marginal worming) and first three preliminary leaves trimmed and laid down, leaves A1-D6 and a few leaves towards end re-guarded, a few repaired tears, apparently lacking leaf Z5 in first part although text appears complete, occasional contemporary underlining and marginalia, occasional light damp stains and soiling, all edges gilt, later calf gilt, rebounded, a little rubbed, folio Atabey 841; Blackmer 1159; STC 18205. "Moryson was one of the most important of the late Elizabethan travellers, Spencer (p.61) refers to him as the first serious English traveller. Between 1591 and 1597 he made two long journeys, the first through parts of Europe (1591-1595) and the second (Nov. 1595-July 1597) to the Levant. His Itinerary, published long after his return from the East, was originally composed in Latin, presumably from careful notes made at the time. Moryson translated it himself into English. The remarks on the Levant are complete. Many sections on Europe remained in manuscript till 1903, when they were edited and published by Charles Hughes as Shakespeare's Europe." (Blackmer). Sold with all faults not subject to return.

40 Pittman (Philip). The Present State of the European Settlements on the Mississippi [sic]; with a geographical description of that river. Illustrated by plans and draughts, 1st edition, London: J. Nourse, 1770, [A]4, B-N4, O2, folding engraved frontispiece (plan of New Orleans), half-title, six folding engraved maps & plans by Thomas Kitchen only (of 7, lacking map of the middle section of the Mississippi River, numbered 2 'A Draught of the river Mississippi from the Balise up to Fort Chartres 2' - torn portion present only), occasional offsetting, some dust-soiling mostly to margins, untrimmed and edges largely uncut, bookplate of Napier of Ballikrain, original publisher's wrappers, loose and somewhat worn, 4to (29 x 22cm)

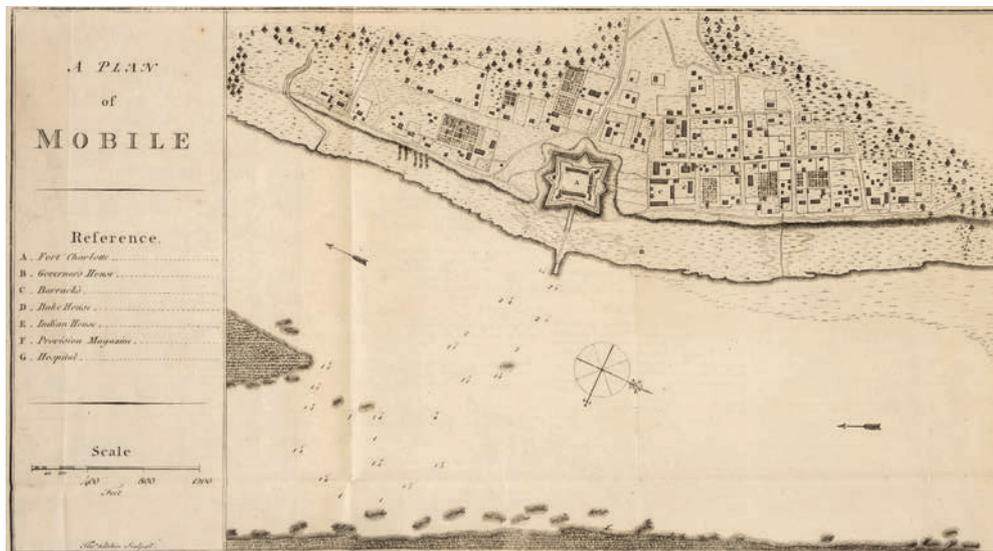

Graff 3302; Howes P396; Sabin 63103; ESTC T105647.

This copy includes maps & plans of New Orleans, Fort Rosalia, Mobile, the Iberville River (now Bayou Manchac), the Cascaskies (now Kaskaskia, Illinois), and the Mississippi River (maps 1 & 3 only, lacking map 2 - central portion) commencing at Balise (La Balize, Plaquemines Parish Louisiana) and ending at Fort Chartres (Prairie du Rocher, Randolph county Illinois).

Pittman spent five years as a surveyor and military engineer before completing this work. It is an invaluable source for 'the study of early Louisiana history and the western country under British occupation. The plan of Mobile is the earliest known. "The European settlements on the river Mississippi comprehend Louisiana, part of West Florida, and the country of the Illinois. Five years residence as an engineer in those countries, during which time I was chiefly employed in surveying and exploring their interior parts, and an acquaintance with the principal inhabitants enables me to speak with at least as much authority as any author who has hitherto wrote on the same subject." (From the Preface).

55 Dugdale (William). A volume containing a selection of plates from Monasticon Anglicanum, [London: Printed by R. Harbin for D. Browne and J. Smith, 1718], 86 engraved plates of ecclesiastical buildings (10 mounted, 7 of which torn with some loss), occasional spotting, contemporary reversed calf, blind panel decoration to boards and centre of each with gilt-embossed crest of Edward Phelipps (1613-1679) of Montacute, Somerset (the stamp was used by later generations of the family - see footnote), spine very worn, joints split, edges of boards worn and showing, slim 4to (36.5 x 28.8cm)

Edward Phelipps (1613-1679) of Montacute in Somerset, was the elder son of Sir Robert Phelipps and Bridget, daughter of Sir Thomas Gorges. A supporter of Charles I, following the defeat near Chard, he retreated to Exeter, and was taken prisoner when the Castle surrendered to General Fairfax, and all his estates sequestered by Parliament. He married Anne, daughter of Sir Robert Pye, of Clifton Hall Staffordshire.

The stamp was evidently used by generations of Phelipps, and they are found on books published as late as 1775. Possible candidates are:

– Sir Edward Phelipps (1631-1699), son of Edward Phelipps and Anne, daughter of Sir Robert Pye. Firstly he married Dorothy Cheeke, secondly Edith Blake, of Langport, Somerset, daughter of John Blake, ironmonger, and niece and coheir of Admiral Blake.

– Edward Phelipps (1725-1797) of Montacute, Member of Parliament for Somerset 1774. He married Maria Wright, daughter of William Wright.

– Edward Phelipps (1763-1792), Member of Parliament for Somerset. He married Elizabeth Lockyer.

The modern spelling in the form of Phelps seems to have been adopted by Edward Phelps in the mid-eighteenth century. Before that date the variations and combinations of vowels and letters 'l' and 'p' are endless.

104 Mosley (Seth Lister). Illustrations of Varieties of British Lepidoptera [cover-title], 14 parts (complete), 1st edition, Huddersfield: to be had of S.L. Mosley, 1878-[1885], 73 plates (complete), the majority original watercolours, some lithographed and hand-coloured, a few plates with a minor mark to margin, interleaved with descriptive letterpress (some pencil annotations), parts I & II with some spotting, barely affecting plates, a single text leaf in part I with insect damage at foot, 8 parts with either stitching broken or disbound and loose in wrappers, all in original printed wrappers, each with ink manuscript ownership name A.B. Farn at head, some dust-soiling, first and last parts somewhat soiled and rubbed, most spines rubbed with splits and losses (5 spines fully split), a few creases, 8vo
 Nissen ZBI 2901; Freeman 2699.

This rare work was issued in 14 parts and is seldom found complete as here: apparently only twenty copies were published. Copies found in only two UK libraries and one other worldwide.

In his Preface to part I Mosley explains his intention that all the plates would be drawn and coloured by hand. "The advantage of this will be - I can regulate the supply according to the demand, without going into a lot of expense in lithographing them ... The parts will be issued occasionally, as I am able to complete them". However it appears that as the work progressed he was compelled to resort to lithography.

M. Arnold Esq. of Milton Hall Gravesend and another of a clipping from an old trade catalogue offering the map for sale for 2s 6d, contained in a contemporary marbled card slipcase, some wear to slipcase
The noted cartographer, engraver and publisher John Cary (1755-1835) collaborated with William Smith, 'the father of English geology', on a number of his geological projects, notably the 1815 Map and geological sections (1817-1819). Cary had previously produced large, topographical county maps for his 'New and Correct English Atlas'. The plates that were being prepared for a new edition were instead adapted to accommodate Smith's detailed geology, the first set of geological maps being issued in 1819. This is the first state of these rare geological county maps. The second state, although coloured using William Smith's geology, gives no acknowledgement to Smith at all.

The Mapping of North America. no.292. This early sea chart of the Pacific Ocean - the first to appear in a Dutch atlas - shows a long chain of islands in the South Pacific. It has been speculated that they are a depiction of 'Terra Australis' but their close proximity to Cape Horn and Tierra del Fuego would refute this. The islands were mentioned by Jansson to have been discovered by Hernando Gallego, but this is a legendary attribution. (1) £600 - £900

167 Peutinger Table. Jansson (Jan), Tabula Itineraria ex illustri Peutingerorum Bibliotheca..., Amsterdam, circa 1652, eight uncoloured engraved route maps, very slight marginal spotting, old folds, each approximately 195 x 505 mm R.W.Shirley, The Mapping of the World, no.393. 170* Poland. Braun (Georg & Hogenberg Franz), Zamoscium Nova Poloniae civitas..., 1617, engraved city plan with contemporary hand-colouring, 355 x 465mm, mounted, framed and glazed

This engraving of Zamosc is unusually simplistic and appears to have been created from a geometric concept. Compared to the majority of Braun & Hogenberg's views, it is very static with distorted elevations and prospects. Zamosc was a fortified town in the southeast of Poland and is shown from a northern prospect. It was built in the late 16th and early 17th centuries in the Renaissance manner, by the Italian architect Bernardo Morando and soon became known as the Padua of the north. It was named after its founder, Jan Zamoyski, the Grand Chancellor of Poland.

The noted cartographer, engraver and publisher John Cary (1755-1835) collaborated with William Smith, 'the father of English geology', on a number of his geological projects, notably the 1815 Map and geological sections (1817-1819). Cary had previously produced large, topographical county maps for his New and Correct English Atlas. The plates that were being prepared for a new edition were instead adapted to accommodate Smith's detailed geology, the first set of geological maps being issued in 1819. This later state, has the engraved annotations identifying the various rock strata to be found within the county but lacks the hand colouring which identifies the geological variations. A note below the map states 'Smith's Geological Section of the Strata on the Road from Bath to Salisbury to accompany this Map may be had of the Publisher. J. Cary, No. 86 St. James St. London, Price 5s.' Scarce.

249* Sydney. (Sabatier & De Thierry), Vue de Sydney et l'entrée de la Rivière de Paramatta, 1ere et 2eme feuille, Paris [1840-64], a pair of uncoloured tint stone lithographs (which can be conjoined to form a panorama) after Mesnard and originally published in Abel Dupetit-Thouars 'Voyage Autour du Monde sur la frigate Venus pendant les années 1836-1839', slight spotting to margins, each approximately 190 x 430mm

A pair of lithographs from a rare account of a French voyage to the Pacific. Mesnard, who was a naval cadet, was the expedition's artist onboard the frigate Venus which was under the command of Admiral Dupetit-Thouars. Reports of the voyage unsettled the British who believed that France was trying to claim New Zealand as a colony. Although the voyage was presented as a 'scientific expedition' with particular emphasis on establishing the potential of whaling in the Pacific, it was in reality, an exercise in establishing and reinforcing French influence in the Southern Hemisphere.

251* Tahiti. Piringer (James), Vue de Détroit Charlotte dans la Nouvelle Zélande dans la Mer du Sud, circa 1780, hand-coloured aquatint after James Cleveley, slight surface abrasion and creasing, one marginal close repaired tear, 450x 610mm

Walter Preston was a convict engraver whose ability came to the attention of Captain Wallis, who, as well as being the commanding officer of the Newcastle Convict Settlement, was a talented amateur artist. Their relationship resulted in a collection of views which were published by Ackermanns in 1821 called 'An Historical Account of the Colony of New South Wales'. Newcastle had a fearsome reputation as a place for secondary punishment and was described by a contemporary officer as 'the Hell of New South Wales'; which makes the collaboration and artistic achievement all the more extraordinary. It should be remembered that high-grade copper suitable for engraving was not available, so the copper sheets were manufactured from old sheathing plates from ship's hulls. This marine copper was much softer and more difficult to cut with precision and this accounts for the somewhat 'open' appearance of the engraving. Ultimately Preston was pardoned - on the recommendation of Wallis - in no small part because of his work on producing the plates for the book. Bennelong Point is now the sight of Sydney Opera House.

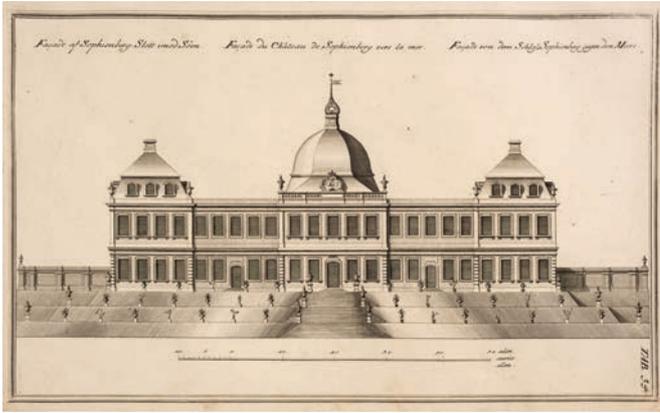

The engraving shows Captain Cook on a beach with a group of Tahitians with the Resolution at anchor in a bay. The print is mistitled as showing Queen Charlotte Sound in New Zealand. It shows Matavai Bay, Tahiti

Henry Wilkinson was a master engraver of mainly sporting subjects and especially dogs. He studied engraving at the Royal College of Art and honed his skills while working as an assistant to the famous canine and wildlife engraver George Vernon Stokes. He produced his limited editions single-handedly, from conception, engraving, printing and finishing, including the production of his printing inks. His talents extended to other areas as diverse as silversmithing, gun making, cabinet making and stone masonry. For many years Wilkinson was Head of Engraving at the City and Guilds of London Art School, a consultant to the Morris Singer Bronze Foundry and a council member of the Royal Society of Painter-Engravers. He is widely regarded as the master of canine engraving from the late 20th century.

For a full account of the life of George Drought Warburton (1816-1857) see ODNB - 'Army officer and writer on Canada, the third son of George Warburton, of Aughrim, Galway, formerly inspector-general of constabulary in Ireland, and his wife, Anna. He was educated at the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, and served in the Royal Artillery from June 1833, which he entered as a 2nd lieutenant. From 1837 to 1838 he was with a detachment of the Royal Artillery serving in the Carlist War in Spain, where he was badly wounded in action. For his services he was made knight of the first class of San Fernando. In July 1844 he was sent to Canada, where he was stationed at Montreal. His anonymous description of the country under the title 'Hochelega, or, England in the New World' (2 vols. 1846) was published as 'edited by Eliot Warburton' that is, his elder brother Bartholomew Elliott George Warburton, who had already established himself as a travel writer. George Drought's work quickly ran to several editions in England and the USA and soon became staple reading for travellers. Warburton returned from Canada in 1846 and was in 1848 promoted captain and served briefly in Corfu; he returned to Woolwich in 1849. The success of his first book encouraged him to write another anonymous work, The Conquest of Canada (2 vols. 1849), which like the first passed through several editions and was widely read ...'.

Photograph signed, being a film still from the 1936 film 'The Garden of Allah' showing here with co-star Charles Boyer, 20 x 25cm, presented in a framed montage with a signed small photograph of Charles Boyer and computer-printed biographical information, etc., glazed, 44 x 34cm, together with other framed and glazed film autograph material including a signed photograph of Laurence Olivier, 25 x 18cm, a typed letter signed from Edward G. Robinson with reproduction photograph and biographical information, felt tip pen signature of Bette Davis, autograph of Richard Todd and Sybil Thorndike, Ken Russell, each framed with a reproduction portrait, Robert Donat (signed photograph with presentation inscription dated 1947), all framed and glazed, plus mounted autographs and portraits without frames of the actors Hermione Gingold, Robert Beatty and Joanna Lumley (11) £150 - £200

269* Dried specimens. An album of fern doilies, Jamaica, late 19th century, album of 14 octagonal leaves, comprising first leaf with a lozenge-shaped printed descriptive note within typographic border mounted on recto, a blank leaf, and 12 leaves with a loosely inserted circular doily made from pressed ferns mounted on fine lace bark, with intricately cut border, each of a different design, using the sheath of a palm fruit, 6 with loss or damage to border, 3 or 4 with slight losses to ferns, octagonal cardboard cover with remains (an imprints) of mounted ferns, tied with a purple silk ribbon (faded), diameter 18.5cm

Rare, and particularly so with all 10 doilies present: The V&A has a copy (accession number E.741-1955) and pictures 9 doilies; The Met appears to have 2 loose doilies only and no cover (accession numbers 08.180.972 and 08.180.973).

The explanatory note at the beginning states: "The Doyleys are made of the bark of the Lagetta - Lintearia tree, growing in Jamaica. The Borders are cut out of the Spatha, the sheath of the fruit of the Mountain-Cabbage palm. The ferns are collected from different parts of Jamaica. The Doyleys are sold for the benefit of the Orphanage for Girls, at Halfway Tree, Jamaica."

271 German armorial manuscript volume. Containing 480 hand-painted continental shields & crests, early 16th century, comprising five double-page sheets (opening to 425 x 600mm) on thick wove paper, 96 shields to each double-page sheet or opening, each armorial finely drawn in pen & ink with original watercolour in red, blue, yellow and green, and captioned in brown ink in a secretary hand (with some unusual spellings of names which suggest an early composition for example Meittenharsre mod. metzenhassen, Mobingartt mod. Bomgart and Scharenstein mod. Horenstein), the style of drawing is continental and the absence of an Italic influence suggests an early date, few discreet old repairs, each sheet laid onto good quality 17th century(?) laid paper (and so, thought worthy of preservation even at this date), some light dust-soiling, few minor marks (including old damp stain to one sheet), edges neatly strengthened with archival tissue, guards and endpapers renewed, upper pastedown with small portion of earlier pastedown retained with 'Anon 478' written in ink and pencil, modern full tan calf professionally bound by Julian Thomas (volume conserved & rebound in 2010, and original invoice for binding and conservation work included), single gilt-line to border to boards, spine with raised bands and double gilt-line decoration, slim folio 440 x 335mm

270* German [Bavarian] Pedigree Wappenrolle. A finely hand-painted single sheet manuscript armorial pedigree, circa 1685, comprising 31 armorials brightly hand-painted in watercolour on thick laid paper (bearing unidentified armorial watermark), incorporating tree form & foliage interconnections (traces of pencil beneath), each armorial with name caption written in brown ink within pink scrolls, date of 1650 in brown ink written in an early hand against upper left armorial of Joann Jacob von Miller auf Alt Amerthall, Churfte [Kurfurstlich] Pfleger (Electoral Guardian? It is understood that Johann [sic] Jacob was ennobled as Ritter in 1660, but the title is not recorded in the pedigree), light dust-soiling and few minor marks, few tiny holes where previously folded, fraying to margins, few neatly repaired short closed tears, 740 x 524mm

An interesting and scarce pedigree with some fine coats and crests, and multi-coloured mantling. It is understood the family suffered greatly during the 30 years war. Families included in the pedigree include von- Miller, Edlburg, Wildenau, Trainer, Blanckenheim, Benckendorff, Mendl, Kozin, Giggerbach, Helmburg, Woofenbach, Finckenstein, Ehrenstein, Neuberg, Hartenbach and Kropkau.

The armorials include many canting arms and early Grand Masters of the Teutonic Knights, some very early examples not recorded in Siebmacher's Wappenbuch. The most prevalent coats appear to be for bearers in Bavaria, Suabia, Franconia and Rhineland (Bavaria was a Duchy, later a kingdom, which split at various times rather than being a separate entity). The Grand Masters of the Teutonic Order are early, e.g. Berfurtteyer (mod. Karl Beffart v. Trier); Dussanre (mod. Heinrich Dusner); Ludolf Konig et al. There is very little 'vert' (green) in the shields, a colour that was not much used in early heraldry. The watermarks (pomme de pin, double-headed eagle and bear) compare to examples included in Briquet & Piccard dating from between the 1480s to 1540s.

272* Gordon (Charles George, 1833-1885). British Major-General, also known as Chinese Gordon, Gordon Pasha, and Gordon of Khartoum. An important Autograph Letter Signed, 'C.E. Gordon', as Chief Royal Engineer, Royal Engineers Office, Port Louis, [Mauritius], 2 July 1881, to the Major General Commanding, about 'Subjects connected with the Barrack accommodation of the troops under your command ...', he gives a detailed report, illustrated with two pen and ink diagrams, of the state of affairs of the Hospital of Port Louis, Mauritius (Gordon was Commanding Officer of the Royal Engineers in Mauritius at this time), describing the use of the different buildings and the problems, 'The place swarms with mosquitos ...', 'The detrimental effects of having the Immigration depot, the sugar store and the mixed heterogeneous patients of the Civil Hospital in such close proximity to the Military Hospital can be easily appreciated ...' 'Under the circumstances the consideration is, when a new Hospital could be made ... a division of the present Hospital accommodation should be made ...' and continues with suggestions for new buildings and estimates of the costs involved '17000£ would be the cost of giving up the Old Hospital, which might fetch 12000£ ...' 'It now becomes a question whether it would be better to spend this 15000£, and hold the troops at Port Louis, or to sell the Infantry Barracks at Port Louis ... leaving only sufficient accommodation for the two Imperial Guards .. to my mind the retention of the Citadel and Fort George answer for the defence of the Port, and town of Port Louis ...', having given the alternatives and his opinions he ends with a postscript that he recommends the 'supplying of the troops in these countries with Mosquito nets ...', 7 pages, folio, together with an autograph memorandum signed with initials on 'The Value Naval and Military of the Island of Mauritius to the Imperial Govt', no place, 3 July 1881, illustrated with two full-page manuscript maps, the first showing the Landing Places of Mauritius and the second showing Port Louis and the Neighbourhood, 10 pages, folio, plus 2 contemporary copies of memorandums from Gordon, the first 'On the Means of Protecting British Commerce in Indian Ocean', illustrated with two maps, each i side, 10 pages, folio, no place, 27 July 1881, and the second 'Memorandum on Colonial Defence' 'Modern warfare has completely changed the strategical advantages of positions ... Gibraltar and the Skager Rock are now the Constantinoples ...', with 2 maps, 7 pages, folio

Provenance: John Lawson (1932-2019), bookseller; acquired from Francis Edwards, Catalogue 1043, 1983, item 312.

Gordon left for Mauritius as Commanding Royal Engineer in April 1881 and remained there until March 1882, when he was promoted to major-general.

273 [Haig, Douglas, 1st Earl Haig, 1861–1928]. Maximes de guerre et pensées de Napoléon Ier., 5e. édition revue et augmentée, Paris: Librairie Militaire, 1863, some minor spotting and light marginal damp staining to preliminary leaves, scattered marginal pencil marks, autograph ink presentation inscription to half-title, 'Douglas Haig. 7th Queens Own Hussars from General Keith Fraser, Insp[ector] General of Cavalry', contemporary half calf over marbled boards with gilt-title labels to spine, rebacked with original spine relaid, a little wear and loss to spine leather, 16mo Field Marshal Douglas Haig's copy of Napoleon's War Maxims and Thoughts, possibly with his pencil markings. A nice association item. Haig was sent out to India in November 1886 as a junior officer and promoted to captain in 1891. He left India in 1892 but returned there briefly before returning home as Aide-de-camp to Sir Keith Fraser, Inspector General of Cavalry, a position he was appointed to on 28 April 1894. Haig entered Staff College, Camberley in 1896, completing the course and leaving in 1897. There he was taught that victory must come from defeating the main enemy army in battle, and that as in Napoleonic warfare, attrition was merely a prelude to the commitment of reserves for a decisive battlefield victory, and traces of this thinking can be seen in Haig's decision making for battles in World War I. The one maxim which has some pencil underlining is XVI in which Napoleon writes that one must avoid the battlefield one's enemy has reconnoitred and studied.

told me that Capt Boyer was to be ballotted for at New Club. went up & gave him my vote. There were 108 persons ballotted & only three blank votes. Saw Mr. Mays afterwards. Note he gave me a Cornishman's stick - took it to Paris to be made - breakfast on the Thiersville road with Major Sharp - dined with Mr. Rodwell along with Mays & Miss Williams. Went down to the gate & saw them off to the Country at noon. (Foot). Mrs. C. was very cold. 2 July 1812. a dark cold morning with a good deal of wind - nothing new in the paper. On returning from the Club saw Mr. Graham who told me that Mr. Butler of the 87th Regt died this morning of a Consumption. He was a Lieutenant - went to the Race Course at Paris along with Mills and myself and saw some good races. The horses were by General Cox and Mr. Wolfe won - there were a great number of people present with some very handsome horses and Carriages - between the last heats there was a violent shower of rain but I got under a tent and saved myself. returned home at 5 o'clock - dined at George's at the ordinary. There were Messrs. Buffon, Alis, Donovon, Forest & Capt. Phillips with three Searchers - near present. afterwards went to the Club where I saw Lord Blagden and a number of others. L<sup>d</sup> B. was showing a bet that he had made with General Cox for 500 guineas to be decided on the race course on the 15th inst. 3 July a very rainy morning and showing until twelve o'clock. remained in the house and settled my last month's accounts. at ten o'clock sent Butler was buried. Walked out to Bellecourt wood with Major Sharp & Mr. Ranney and returned at five o'clock. dined at George's at six. afterwards went to the Club and remained until ten o'clock. 4 July. Still cold & cloudy. went before breakfast and saw the 4th Regt come on. They are all young boys. This is a light Regiment - walked out with Mr. Ranney and when we were on the left of the hill near Bellecourt wood. the weather began to look suspicious & we returned about before we got to town it began to rain. met Major Sharp & Mr. McSagath. on my return saw Mr. Graham who told me that his passport for Sedan had arrived. dined with Ranney. Lord Boyer set off this evening for La Foch. 4 July. a cold rainy morning - called on Mr. Laumont to enquire if he had got his passport for Sedan when he told me he had not - said Graham & in the event of Laumont's not going to Sedan promised to take his lodgings - the weather very unsettled - Walked round the Citadel with Mills.

from he did not send any dinner and I was obliged to go to George's. Went afterwards to the Club. 5 July a hot morning. Bonnet brought me a pair of shoes & when he gave them my boots to arrange he is to make one or pair of shoes of the pair of them, called on Mr. Burn and while sitting there occasionally called & said that he had just seen the Commisariat who told him that his permission to go to Sedan had arrived this morning. called on Graham to say that I could not take his lodgings but he was not at home - did not walk out of Sedan but went round the Citadel with Musilly. dined at home and walked in the evening. - went into the Smoking room with Sharp for half an hour before going home. 6 July a fine morning with the wind easterly. walked out of the Citadel gate with Capt Ridley and returned at four o'clock. on my return found a letter from Mr. Matley at Madame Marzou's. it enclosed one from my sister & Mr. B. dated from Sedan 25 May. Matley tells me that he has sent off his petition to return home on the 1st inst. - dined with Major Sharp along with Col. Poir & Mr. Laumont. 7 July another fine day. the wind continues from the east and apparently settled. remained in the house all the morning. at three o'clock walked down the meadow with Major Sharp. at six o'clock dined with Col. Laumont & Graham went off this morning at 6 o'clock - walked out before dinner with Major Sharp.

282 Napoleonic Prisoner-of-War Diary. A manuscript diary kept by a British prisoner-of-war in the Saarlouis, Verdun, Metz area, France, 1 August 1812-9 January 1814, a total of 144 pages written in a small but very neat and legible hand, stitching broken and contents disbound between two contemporary plain boards, 8vo (16.5 x 10cm)

Parts / Quantity: 1

Footnote: Accompanying the diary is a letter from the National Army Museum, November 1977, which had studied the diary and offered some information. The writer was a prisoner-of-war, first at Sarrelibre near Metz, and from 28 May 1813 at Verdun. 'He was apparently captured at sea on 21 December 1805 and landed at La Rochelle on 29 December and this would suggest that he was travelling on an unescorted merchant ship which was taken by a French privateer in the Bay of Biscay. On 21 December 1812 he notes "wrote a letter to the Minister of Marine requesting my exchange", and on 6 October 1813 he mentions owning an Army List. He also oversaw the repayment of money to seamen at Sarrelibre (9 Sept. 1812) and gave money to a midshipman (29 November 1812). While at Sarrelibre most of his acquaintances were apparently not military officers (based on an absence from the Army Lists), but at Verdun he names about a score of officers at both Army and Navy. On 9 August 1812 the writer is identified in the meeting with a former French acquaintance as Monsieur Melville...'. The letter suggests that the most probable candidate is Lieutenant Robert Melville, 68th (Durham) Regt. of Foot, but saying that it is impossible to say for sure. National Army Museum hold a microfilm of the diary (accession no. 1979-02-5).

295* Roussel (Theodore, 1847-1926). French-born English Painter and Graphic Artist. An autograph autobiographical account of his own life, circa 1920, describing his artistic beginnings and later professional life from his birth up until at the mid-1880s, with references to his picture The Reading Girl [1886] and ending with the sentence 'It is through one of those exhibitions I was speaking above, at the Dowdeswell, that in the later part of the winter of 1885 I have known Whistler', written with numerous crossings out and corrections in his hand on rectos of 10 leaves with concluding page in pencil on verso of final leaf, together with a separate one-page start of an autobiographical account from when he came to England [1878], 'forty-five years ago', this leaf browned, all 4to, together with an unsigned pen and ink sketch of trees, 6 x 14.5 cm, and a pen and ink sketch of a man in a kilt (?), 12 x 9.5 cm, both attributed to Roussel; plus a small thumbnail pencil study of a woman's head on a plain postcard, initialled by Roussel, 'Th R'; plus an etching of a Breton woman, 9 x 7 cm, with signed presentation inscription from W. Lee Hankey to lower margin; plus an autograph letter signed from Roussel, St. Leonard's on Sea, 11 September 1919, to Annie [his sister?], 3 pp., 4to, plus 3 small photographs of Roussel, including 2 identified as with [Agnes] Ethel, circa 1920, each 10 x 6 cm; plus a manuscript draft of Roussel's will from 1924 in an unidentified hand, a solicitor's letter concerning Roussel's affairs after his death addressed to [Agnes] E. McKay, an invoice from James J. Brett for a monument erected in Crowhurst Churchyard to the memory of the late Theodore Roussel, made out to Miss [Agnes Ethel] McKay, 25 May 1927, 2 receipt letters from the British Museum to Miss [Marion] Melville and Miss Agnes McKay for the gifting of 70 proofs of etchings by Theodore Roussel, 23 March 1927, a certified copy of Ethel Roussel's death certificate, 30 March 1917 and a Goupil & Co. Catalogue of Colour Etchings by Roussel, July 1899, with some manuscript price insertions, 8vo

Provenance: Acquired from the sale of the estate of Marion Melville (1903-). Marion was the daughter of the artist Arthur Melville (1855-1904) and Ethel Constance Melville (died 1917). Theodore Roussel had first married Frances Amelia Smithson Bull but after her death he married Melville's widow Ethel in 1914. Marion was therefore Roussel's step-daughter. Roussel also had a daughter, Ivy (born c. 1900), with his mistress Hetty Pettigrew. Agnes Ethel Mackay (1889-1980) was a poet and critic by vocation. She was the niece of Roussel's second wife, Ethel, and cousin to Marion Melville. After Ethel's death, Agnes moved to St Leonards-on-Sea to take charge of the household, which comprised Roussel and the 13-year-old Marion Melville. Agnes acted as studio assistant and companion to Roussel until his death in 1926. She then moved with Marion to Upper Cheyne Row, London, and then to France in 1937. An interesting and apparently unpublished account of the early part of Roussel's artistic life up until his significant first meeting with Whistler. A transcript of the autobiographical text is available on request.

London: John Fairburn, 1817, 64 pp., bound with A Report of the Proceedings against Abraham Thornton, at Warwick Summer Assizes, 1817, for the Murder of Mary Ashford; and, subsequently in the Court of the King's Bench, in an appeal of the said murder, by John Cooper, Warwick: Heathcote and Foden, 1818, 140 pp. (of 141 pp.), folding linen-backed plan (as frontispiece, repair and loss at foot), engraved plate with oval portraits of Mary Ashford and Abraham Thornton, related press cuttings laid-in, some spotting and soiling, top edge gilt, later green calf gilt by Birdsall, Northampton, spine a little faded, a few light stains, 8vo

Accounts of the famous murder case and subsequent trial of Abraham Thornton, who was accused of the rape and murder of Mary Ashford at Erdington in 1817. Mary Ashford had gone to a dance party at a public house on 26 May 1817, also attended by Abraham Thornton, who had walked Ashford and her friend Hannah Cox home, Cox later leaving the pair. Mary Ashford was discovered the following morning drowned in a water-filled pit and Thornton was arrested on suspicion of her murder but acquitted at his trial on 08 August. Mary's brother, William Ashford appealed the case, Thornton was re-arrested and put on trial again, at the King's Bench in London beginning on 17 November, at which Thornton when asked to enter his plea replied 'Not guilty, and I am ready to defend the same with my body', and after putting on one of a pair of leather gauntlets, threw the other one down for Ashford to accept the challenge of trial by battle, a medieval method of single combat to settle accusations, which had never been repealed by Parliament. Ashford refused the challenge and after further deliberations Thornton was freed once more, and due to public hostility emigrated to America in 1818. The Lord Chancellor introduced a bill to abolish trial by battle in 1819.

INFORMATION FOR BUYERS

AFTER THE AUCTION

Online Results: If you weren't present or able to follow the auction live, you can find results for the sale on our website shortly after the sale has ended.

Payment: The price you pay is the amount at which the auctioneer's hammer falls (the hammer price), plus a buyer's premium (a percentage of the final hammer price) and vat where applicable. You will be issued with an invoice made out to the name and address provided on your registration form.

Please note successful bids made via live bidding cannot be invoiced or paid for until the day after an auction. A live bidding fee of 3% + VAT (Dominic Winter / Invaluable) or 4.95% + VAT (the-saleroom) will be added to your invoice.

METHODS OF PAYMENT

Cheque: Cheques will only be accepted on the day of the sale by prior arrangement (please contact our office for further information). Cheques by post will be accepted but a period of 5 working days will be required for the cheque to clear before purchases can be collected or posted.

Cash: Payments can be made at the Cashier's Office, either during or after the sale.

Debit Card: There is no additional charge for purchases made with debit cards in the UK.

Credit Cards: We accept Visa and Mastercard. It is advisable to let your card provider know in advance if you are intending to purchase. This reduces the time needed to obtain authorisation when the payment is made.

Bank Transfer: All transfers must state the relevant invoice number. If transferring from a foreign currency, the amount we receive must be the total due after the currency conversion and the deduction of any bank charges.

Note to Overseas Clients: All payments must be made by bank transfer only. No card payments will be accepted unless by special prior arrangements with the auctioneers.

Collection/Postage/Delivery: If you attend the auction in person and are successful in your bid, you are free to collect your item once payment has been made.

Successful commission or live bids will be invoiced to you the day after the sale. When it is possible for our in-house packing department to send your purchase(s), a charge for postage/packing/insurance will be included in your invoice. Where it is not possible for our in-house packing department to send your item you will be required to make your own arrangements or to contact Mailboxes etc (tel: 01793 525009) or Pack and Send (tel: 01635 887237) who may be able to help.

We provide a monthly delivery service to Central London, usually on Wednesday of the week following an auction. Payment must be received before this option can be requested. A charge will be added to your invoice for this service.

ARTIST'S RESALE RIGHT LAW ("DROIT DE SUITE")

Lots marked with AR next to the lot number may be subject to Droit de Suite.

Droit de Suite is payable on the hammer price of any artwork sold in the lifetime of the artist, or within 70 years of the artist's death. The buyer agrees to pay Dominic Winter Auctioneers Ltd. an amount equal to the resale royalty and we will pay such amount to the artist's collecting agent. Resale royalty applies where the Hammer price is 1,000 Euros or more and the amount cannot be more than 12,500 Euros per lot.

The amount is calculated as follows:

Royalty For the Portion of the Hammer Price (in Euros)

4.00% up to 50,000

3.00% between 50,000.01 and 200,000

1.00% between 200,000.01 and 350,000

0.50% between 350,000.01 and 500,000

Invoices will, as usual, be issued in Pounds Sterling. For the purposes of calculating the resale royalty the Pounds Sterling/Euro rate of exchange will be the European Central Bank reference rate on the day of the sale.

Please refer to the DACS website www.dacs.org.uk and the Artists' Collecting Society website www.artistscollectingsociety.org for further details.

CONDITIONS OF SALE AND BUSINESS

1. The Seller warrants to the Auctioneer and the buyer that he is the true owner or is properly authorised to sell the property by the true owner and is able to transfer good and marketable title to the property free from any third party claims.
2. (a) The highest bidder to be the buyer. If during the auction the Auctioneer considers that a dispute has arisen he has absolute authority to settle it or re-offer the lot. The Auctioneer may at his sole discretion determine the advance of bidding or refuse a bid, divide any lot, combine any two or more lots or withdraw any lot without prior notice.
(b) Where goods are bought at auction by a buyer who has entered into an agreement with another or others that the other or others (or some of them) shall abstain from bidding for the goods and the buyer or other party or one of the other parties is a dealer (as defined in the Auction Biddings Agreement Act 1927) the buyer warrants that the goods are bought bona fide on joint account.
3. The buyer shall pay the price at which a lot is knocked down by the Auctioneer to the buyer ("the hammer price") together with a premium of 20% of the hammer price. Where the lot is marked by an asterisk the premium will be subject to VAT at 20% which under the Auctioneer's Margin Scheme will form part of the buyer's premium on our invoice and will not be separately identified (the premium added to the hammer price will hereafter collectively be referred to as "the total sum due"). By making any bid the buyer acknowledges that his attention has been drawn to the fact that on the sale of any lot the Auctioneer will receive from the seller commission at its usual rates in addition to the said premium of 20% and assents to the Auctioneer receiving the said commission.
4. (a) The buyer shall forthwith upon the purchase give in his name and permanent address and pay to the Auctioneer immediately after the conclusion of the auction the total sum due.
(b) The buyer may be required to pay down during the course of the sale the whole or any part of the total sum due, and if he fails to do so after such request the lot or lots may at the Auctioneer's absolute discretion be put up again and resold immediately.
(c) The buyer shall at his own expense take away any lot or lots purchased no later than five working days after the auction day.
(d) The Auctioneer may at his own discretion agree credit terms with a buyer and extend the time limits for collection in special cases but otherwise payment shall be deemed to have been made only after the Auctioneer has received cash or a sterling banker's draft or the buyer's cheque has been cleared.
5. (a) If the buyer fails to pay for or take away any lot or lots pursuant to clause 4 or breaches any other condition of that clause the Auctioneer as agent for the seller shall be entitled after consultation with the seller to exercise one or other of the following rights:
(i) Rescind the sale of that or any other lots sold to the buyer who defaults and re-sell the lot or lots whereupon the defaulting buyer shall pay to the Auctioneer any shortfall between the proceeds of that sale after deduction of costs of re-sale and the total sum due. Any surplus shall belong to the seller.
(ii) Proceed for damages for breach of contract.
(b) Without prejudice to the Auctioneer's rights hereunder if any lots or lots are not collected within five days or such longer period as the Auctioneer may have agreed otherwise, the Auctioneer may charge the buyer a storage charge of £1.00 + VAT at the current rate per lot per day.
(c) Ownership of the lot purchased shall not pass to the buyer until he has paid to the Auctioneer the total sum due.
6. (a) The seller shall be entitled to place a reserve on any lot and the Auctioneer shall have the right to bid on behalf of the seller for any lot on which a reserve has been placed. A seller may not bid on any lot on which a reserve has been placed.
(b) Where any lot fails to sell, the Auctioneer shall notify the seller accordingly. The seller shall make arrangements either to re-offer the lot for sale or to collect the lot and may be asked to pay a commission not exceeding 50% of the selling commission and any special expenses incurred in cataloguing the lot.
(c) If such arrangements are not made within seven days of the notification the Auctioneer is empowered to sell the lot by auction or by private treaty at not less than the reserve price and to receive from the seller the normal selling commission and special expenses.
7. Any representation or statement by the Auctioneer in any catalogue, brochure or advertisement of forthcoming sales as to authorship, attribution, genuineness, origin, date, age, provenance, condition or estimated selling price is a statement of opinion only. Every person interested should exercise and rely on his own judgement as to such matters and neither the Auctioneer nor his servants or agents are responsible for the correctness of such opinions. No warranty whatsoever is given by the Auctioneer or the seller in respect of any lot and any express or implied warranties are hereby excluded.
8. (a) Notwithstanding any other terms of these conditions, if within fourteen days of the sale the Auctioneer has received from the buyer of any lot notice in writing that in his view the lot is a deliberate forgery and within fourteen days after such notification the buyer returns the same to the Auctioneer in the same condition as at the time of the sale and satisfies the Auctioneer that considered in the light of the entry in the catalogue the lot is a deliberate forgery then the sale of the lot will be rescinded and the purchase price of the same refunded. "A deliberate forgery" means a lot made with intention to deceive.
(b) A buyer's claim under this condition shall be limited to any amount paid to the Auctioneer for the lot and for the purpose of this condition the buyer shall be the person to whom the original invoice was made out by the Auctioneer.
9. Lots may be removed during the sale after full settlement in accordance with 4(d) hereof.
10. All goods delivered to the Auctioneer's premises will be deemed to be delivered for sale by auction unless otherwise stated in writing and will be catalogued and sold at the Auctioneer's discretion and accepted by the Auctioneer subject to all these conditions. In the case of miscellaneous books, the Auctioneer reserves the right to extract and dispose of books that, in the opinion of the Auctioneer at his absolute discretion, have no saleable value and, therefore, might detract from the saleability of the rest of the lot and the Auctioneer shall incur no liability to the seller, in respect of the books disposed of. By delivering the goods to the Auctioneer for inclusion in his auction sales each seller acknowledges that he/she accepts and agrees to all the conditions.
11. (a) Unless otherwise instructed in writing all goods on the Auctioneer's premises and in their custody will be held insured against the risks of fire, burglary, water damage and accidental breakage or damage. The value of the goods so covered will be the hammer price, or in the case of unsold lots the lower estimate, or in the case of loss or damage prior to the sale that which the specialised staff of the Auctioneer shall in their absolute discretion estimate to be the auction value of such goods.
(b) The Auctioneer shall not be responsible for damage to or the loss, theft, or destruction of any goods not so insured because of the owner's written instructions.
12. The Auctioneer shall remit the proceeds of the sale to the seller thirty days after the day of the auction provided that the Auctioneer has received the total sum due from the buyer. In all other cases the Auctioneer will remit the proceeds of the sale to the seller within seven days of the receipt by the Auctioneer of the total sum due. The Auctioneer will not be deemed to have received the total sum due until after any cheque delivered by the buyer has been cleared. In the event of the Auctioneer exercising his right to rescind the sale his obligation to the seller hereunder lapses.
13. In the case of the seller withdrawing instructions to the Auctioneer to sell any lot or lots, the Auctioneer may charge a fee of 12.5% of the Auctioneer's middle estimate of the auction price of the lot withdrawn together with Value Added Tax thereon and any expenses incurred in respect of the lot or lots.
14. The Auctioneer's current standard notices and information (i.e. Collation and Amendments) will apply to any contract with the Auctioneer as if incorporated herein.
15. These conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English Law.
