Provenance: Gawdy Hall Library (label at front of text volume); Clifton Hall, Mercantile Library, New York (ink stamps in atlas).

Norman 17; PMM 309. "Agassiz was not the first to observe the phenomena of glaciation, but he was innovative in the wide-ranging character of his research, his measurements of ice formations, and his elaboration of local geology into a theory explaining Continental natural history" (D. S. B.). His concept of an "Ice Age" during which glaciers advanced and retreated over a large part of the northern land-mass not only accounted for the area's topography and rock distribution, but gave naturalists such as Darwin and Lyell a means of explaining the geographical distribution and subsequent genetic kinship of species now separated by land or water barriers." (Norman).

125 Europe. Onwyn (Thomas, after), Komische karte des Kriegsschauplatzes, Hamburg: Verlag von B. S. Berendsohn, circa 1856, etched allegorical map with contemporary outline colouring, old folds with slight wear where old folds cross, contemporary publisher's paper title wrapper to verso, the whole backed with later paper, 465 x 670 mm

A scarce derivative German map, taken from Onwyn's 'Comic Map of the Seat of War with Entirely new Features'. An anamorphic map which can rightly claim to be the origin of the comic maps of Europe which would become so popular in the 19th century. The map shows the Russian bear as the aggressor in the Crimean War, with the Allied Fleet attempting to clip the bear's claws in the Black Sea, and its coat being emblazoned with the words 'Oppression', 'Tyranny', 'Bigotry', 'Treachery and 'Cruelty'. Other nations have been given anthropomorphic national characterisations that will be reprised and revised during the next seventy years. It is worth noting the set of scales below the title with the 'balance of power', shows the Russian bear outweighed by the combination of a French cockerel, Turkeys, and a British Lion.

194* Chevalière d'Éon (1728–1810). Portrait of Charles Genevieve Louis Auguste Andree Timothee D'Eon, after Francis Haward (1759–1797), dated 1846, pencil on paper (with decorative embossed border), with light touches of pale red to her lips and cheeks, half length, slightly turned to the left, wearing a dark dress with a bow and the star of the Order of St Louis, set against an additional ornamental background of curtains, a balustrade and writing implements, initialled and dated 'M.E.M.B. 1846', contemporary ink manuscript 5 line caption to lower margin, tiny spot of abrasion to forehead, lower right corner lightly creased, sheet size 34.3 x 26 cm (13 1/2 x 10 1/4 ins, 4 cm of blank upper margin folded over in frame), framed and glazed (34 x 29 cm)

A fine early pencil copy after the engraved portrait by Haward, (after a painting probably by Angela Kauffman, itself after the original print of 1779 by Pierre Jean Baptiste Bradel), of a man who dressed as both a man and as a woman, and had an important career in the military and as a diplomat and spy, before living as a woman from 1777. In her later years, d'Eon achieved fame in Britain as a celebrity female fencer. The caption below the image is taken from the Haward version of the portrait: "Carola-Genovefa-Louisa-Augusta-Andrea-Timothea-D'Eon De Beaumont, Knight of the Royal and Military order of St. Louis Captain of Dragoons, and the Volunteers of the Army, Aide-de-Camp to the Marechal Duke & Count de Broglio, Minsiter Plenipotentiary from the King of France to the King of Great Britain in 1763, &c. &c. &c. Born at Tonnerre 5.th of Oct.r, 1728. Painted in her 25th Year."

199* Drevet (Pierre). Louis Le Grand [Louis XIV], Paris [1712], uncoloured engraving after Hyacinthe Rigaud, 685 x 515 mm, mounted, framed and glazed

The oil portrait was commissioned as a gift for Louis XIV's grandson, Philip V of Spain but was such a success at court that it was never sent to him and a copy was dispatched instead. As a result of its popularity, several versions of the portrait were produced in oils. Drevet's print after the painting was published in 1712. The steady demand for engraved portraits of prominent men in public life during this period grew in importance under royal patronage, and this became the staple output of Pierre Drevet. He excelled at portrait engravings, his skill leading to his appointment in 1696 to the title of Graveur du Roi (Engraver to the King). Portrait engravings such as this one, which has always been regarded by print connoisseurs as a supreme example of the engraver's art, were sold in print shops but would not have been affordable to many. They would also have been given by the King as gifts to visiting dignitaries and foreign rulers to proclaim his power and majesty.

Atkinson after Sir Edwin Landseer RA", slight staining and spotting, two small repaired marginal closed tears, 680 x 1170 mm, framed and glazed in a contemporary stained wood moulding, together with Stocks (Lumb). The Meeting of Wellington and Blucher after the Battle of Waterloo, Art Union of London, 1875, uncoloured engraving on India wove after Daniel Maclise, very slight spotting, 410 x 1220 mm, framed and glazed in a contemporary gilt gesso moulding, with Solomon (A). Field Marshall the Duke of Wellington K. G. &c. &c. &c. published by J. Watson, May 1st 1845, uncoloured engraved portrait after H. T. Ryall, large margins, very slight spotting, 390 x 310 mm, with three further engravings of or relating to the Duke of Wellington, but later restrikes, various sizes, good condition

The first described item illustrates the old Duke of Wellington showing the field of battle of his greatest victory over the French to the young Queen Victoria. The original painting, which was finished in 1850, presently hangs in the Speaker's Guest Room in the British House of Lords in London.

(6) £150 - £200

201* English School. A collection of approximately 50 various watercolours, 19th and early 20th century, including a fine miniature watercolour study of butterflies and flowers, circa 1820, pen, ink and watercolour on paper, inscribed to verso 'Done by Miss Davy', and a pen and ink study of goats in the style of Samuel Howitt (1756-1822), plus an early 20th-century watercolour view of Feluccas on the Nile, bearing monogram to lower left, plus a watercolour view of a waterfall cascade and fir trees, with ink inscription to lower margin 'Master Gent. Cadet Addiscombe 1st Class ? 1827 / To the Honble. East India Company Military Seminary', and others by or after Stephen Reid, Nelson Dawson, Tom Simpson, Fairfax-Cameron, Edwin Harris, various sizes and conditions, framed and unframed

The so-called wheel and van tax was introduced in 1888 by George Joachim Goschen (1831-1907) when he was Chancellor of the Exchequer. It didn't last long, and there were many caricatures produced of him, including this one. The initials at the lower left could possibly be his initials G.J.G., perhaps further identifying him as the subject of this satirical work, or more likely they indicate the unknown artist.

Darlow and Moule 189; Herbert 249; STC 2175.

With Esther i.1:... seven and twen- / ty provinces. Headline Ee3b, Proverbs.

These Bibles were printed probably in Amsterdam and Dort and adopted by Barker, for the use of English Puritans in the Low Countries. There are many editions bearing this date, which while agreeing closely are yet distinct. No doubt a certain number of copies were originally issued in a mixed state. The nominal date, 1599, is probably untrue in almost every case. (Herbert, Darlow and Moule).

Norman 639; Wing D1448.

Digby's Two Treatises was intended to prove the immortality of the rational soul and its distinction from the material body, a dualistic view shared by many of his contemporaries. The work is noteworthy on several counts: it contains the first fully developed atomistic system of the seventeenth century, the first important defence in English of Harvey's theory of the circulation, important discussions of reflex action and embryological development, an account of the first recorded patch test for allergy, the fullest early account in English of teaching the deaf to lip-read, and material on behavioural conditioning that anticipates the work of Pavlov. Digby's introduction of Gassendian and Cartesian atomism into England provided Boyle and Newton with the foundation for their achievements in chemistry and physics. (Norman).

288 Florio (John). A Worlde of Wordes, or most Copious, and Exact Dictionary in Italian and English, 1st edition, London: Arnold Hatfield for Edward Blount, 1598, title within woodcut architectural border, woodcut initials and tail-piece, triple columns, some overall old light damp staining throughout, old marginal and corner repairs to first five and last four leaves not affecting text, a few further old clear tape repairs of small marginal splits, several rectangular purple ink stamps of The Tate Library, Brixton, to lower margins and above colophon at rear, lacks initial and final blanks, later ink ownership signature of Richard Towneley dated 1659 to title and his armorial bookplate to title verso, later ink numerals to upper right corner of title and '15019' inscribed above bookplate, some marginal ink markings (often relating to words for various precious stones), modern calf by John Gardner (ticket at rear), blind-stamped double fillet border, spine with five raised bands and blind-stamped decoration to each compartment, small folio (250 x 180 mm)

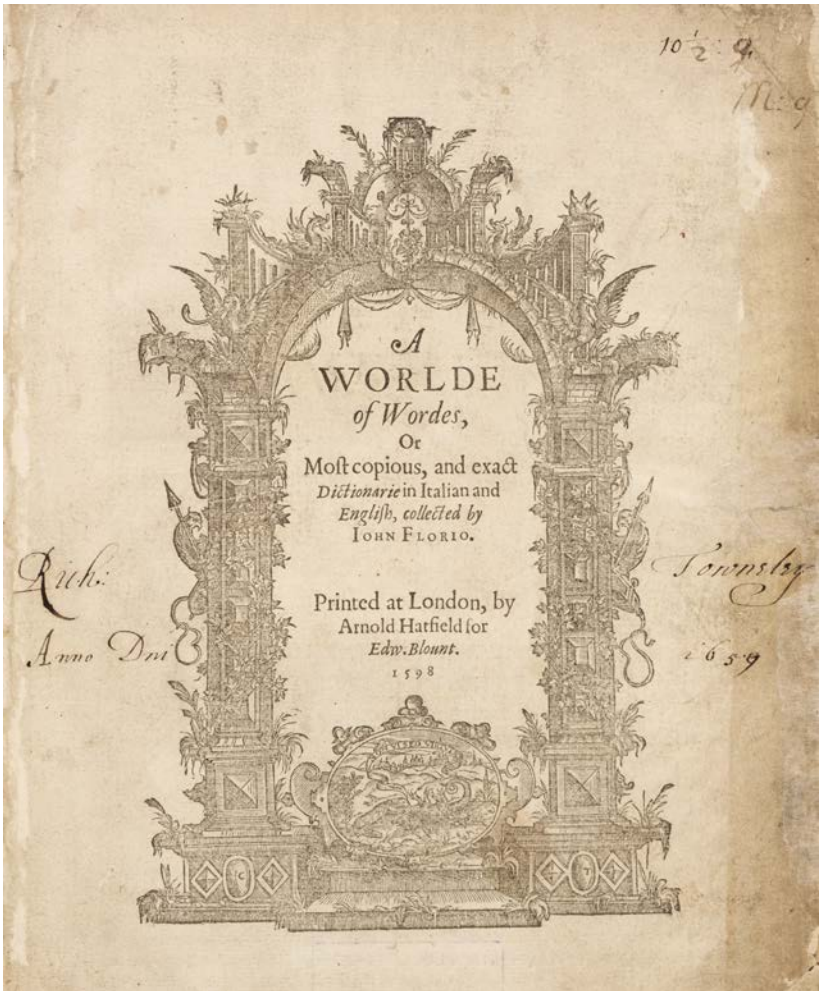

Provenance: Richard Towneley (1629-1707) was an English mathematician, natural philosopher and astronomer, resident at Towneley Hall, near Burnley. Notably he collaborated with Robert Boyle who when publishing what is now know as Boyle's Law in 1662, he then referred to as 'Mr Towneley's hypothesis'.

Padwick 841; STC 11098.

This is the first comprehensive Italian-English Dictionary, also notable for containing one of the earliest printed references to cricket. The term 'cricket-a-wicket' is used four times in the dictionary, though whether this is simply a sexual reference or relating to cricket in any sense is open to dispute. Other games, however, are mentioned in the volume, including definitions of a tennis ball and the racket with which to play tennis.

'He [Florio] displayed his erudition not just in his ability to understand such an extensive range of Italian vocabulary but also in his ability to provide an impressive spread of formal, colloquial, and occasionally vulgar English equivalents' (ODNB).

Bell, J. Darby, [et al.], 1721, unpaginated, double column, some minor spotting, all edges gilt, 18th-century straight grain red morocco gilt with blind-stamped decorations to spine compartments, rebounded with spine relaid, rubbed, 8vo (197 x 122 mm)

Alston V, 94. First edition of one of the most influential English dictionaries. It was the most popular of all dictionaries before Johnson, reaching its 30th edition by 1802.

'Bailey's English dictionaries gave a new prominence to etymology and to lexical comprehensiveness, including dialect terms, scientific terms, common words, and even vulgar ones' (ODNB).

Bailey was the first to include the Anglo-Saxon four-letter words C and F. Johnson has nothing on genitals, male or female, and although Ash (1775) also defined them in the 18th century nobody else put these two words in general English dictionaries until 1965.

A New and Complete Dictionary of Arts and Sciences; Comprehending all the Branches of Useful Knowledge... , 4 volumes, 2nd edition, with many Additions, and other Improvements, London: W. Owen, 1763-64, engraved frontispiece and folding table to volume 1, 302 numbered engraved plates by T. Jefferys, double column text, occasional browning and old damp staining, contemporary sprinkled calf gilt with leather spine labels, joints cracked, rubbed, some edge wear, a little frayed at spine ends, 8vo (210 x 130 mm)

The laws of cricket first appeared on a handkerchief of circa 1744 and in printed form on paper for the first time in The New Universal Magazine of November 1752. They were then published as a pamphlet in 1755, the first separate paper publication. This dictionary defines cricket as 'the name of an exercise or game with bats and balls', (a definition copied word for word from Bailey). Following this are the laws, 'as settled by the Cricket Club in 1744, and played at the artillery ground, London'. The laws which follow are the third known printed appearance of cricket laws on paper. There are minor differences to the printed laws of the 1755 pamphlet and seem more likely to have been taken directly from the 1744 laws, as the ball is still referred to as 'she', which was changed to 'it' in the 1755 laws. The 1755 version also says that the laws are 'as settled by the several cricket-clubs, particularly that of the Star and Garter in Pall-Mall'.

PLAYING CARDS FROM THE COLLECTION OF DUDLEY OLLIS

338* Danish playing cards. Standard Paris-type pattern, Copenhagen: Steinmann, circa 1810, a complete deck of 52 stencil coloured woodcut playing cards (French suits), single figure named courts, jack of clubs with maker's name 'Steinmans', Danish tax stamp on aces of spades and diamonds, dusty, some light soiling and minor marks, some pip cards very lightly creased, versos black dotted lattice, each card 81 x 56 mm, 16 cards mounted with photo corners onto a display board (54.5 x 40 cm), encapsulated in clear plastic (not examined out of board), the remainder in a plastic bag

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

See World of Playing Cards website (P. Steinmann webpage), for a very similar pack. Their pack also has 'Steinmans' on the jack of clubs, but helpfully the accompanying tax wrapper clearly states 'P. Steinmann'.

(1) £200 - £300

Lot 339

339* French playing cards. Alulette pack, Nantes: Beauvais (1st portrait), circa 1848, a complete deck of 48 stencil coloured wood engraved playing cards (Spanish suits), 2 of swords with maker's details, single figure courts of unusual design, high value cards numbered, few minor marks or spots, small surface loss to 3 of swords (affecting tip of one sword hilt), square corners, versos brown-black lattice, each card 85 x 57 mm, 28 cards mounted with photo corners onto a display board (42 x 59.5 cm), encapsulated in clear plastic (not examined out of board), the remainder in a plastic bag

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

Rare. According to alulette.net, this pack is the premier portrait by Beauvais of Nantes, dated to 1845-1850. Here Beauvais has attempted to introduce a new and original design, but it is believed that this was not a success and Beauvais later created a second, more classic alulette portrait.

(1) £400 - £500

340* French playing cards. Alulette pack, Nantes: Roinè (Père & Fils Jeune) and DuMoutier, circa 1820, a complete deck of 48 stencil coloured woodcut playing cards (Spanish suits), all cards with double-line border, single figured courts with maker's details, 2 of coins with Borgne, 2 of swords with Faites a Nantes, three jacks have a feather in their caps, no cards numbered, few minor spots or marks, jack of cups with small brown mark to left border, square corners, versos blue stars and dots, each card 84 x 55 mm, 24 cards mounted with photo corners onto a display board (54.5 x 42 cm), encapsulated in clear plastic (not examined out of board), the remainder in a plastic bag

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

According to alulette.net, this pack is likely to be the 4th portrait produced by Pierre Vincent Roinè and DuMoutier working together - this time with Roinè's younger son also involved. The dates suggested for this design are 1814-1826-29. It is virtually identical to their 3rd portrait (1814-1823), with the addition of feathers in the caps of three jacks and a few fleur-de-lys. The ink stamped names on the courts appear to include both ROINÈ P. and ROINÈ F. (for example, see king of batons and jack of swords respectively), as well as DUMOUTIER.

341* French playing cards. Cartes Mythologiques, Paris: V. Lange, circa 1848, the complete piquet deck of 32 playing cards (French suits), chromolithographed and heightened with gold, single-figure courts representing named divinities from Greek and Roman mythology, JC with maker's details, aces showing two mythological scenes, AC with 'Lith Vor. Arouy, Rue St. Honore, 67', pip cards with central single or double medallions depicting more mythological beings, the suit signs surrounded by decorative flourishes and floral ornaments, 9D with tiny spot of surface loss to one suit sign, QH lightly toned, square corners, versos 'enamelled' plain pink, each card 82 x 56 mm, all cards mounted with photo corners onto a display board (42 x 59.5 cm), encapsulated in clear plastic (not examined out of board)

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

British Museum 1982.U.4589.1-32 (Willshire, French 78); Verame (1989), p.76 "Une de ces innombrables merveilles du XIXe siecle publiees par un petit editeur-imprimeur."

342* French playing cards. Comic tradesman pack, France: unknown maker, circa 1820, 23 (of 32, without: J hearts; K, J spades; Q, 7, 9-10 diamonds; K, 7 clubs) hand-coloured engraved playing cards (French suits), each with miniature standard French pattern playing card to upper left (single figure courts), each card (captioned in French) portraying a tradesman in a comic style, attired in objects that relate to his profession, generally dusty, some marks and stains, especially to club pip cards and 9 spades, Q hearts with a couple of small early ink trials, 9 hearts with tiny corner chip, corners lightly rounded from use, versos plain white, each card 84 x 52 mm, all cards mounted with photo corners onto a display board (54.5 x 40 cm), encapsulated in clear plastic (not examined out of board)

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

The only other example of this apparently rare and comical deck that we have found is in the Museum Ehingen on the Museum-digital Baden-Württemberg website, where it is listed as Spielkarten Piquet Comique. Their pack consists of only 11 of the 32 cards that would have made the full deck, and they suggest a date range of 1801-1825 for its production.

343* French playing cards. French army pack, Paris: Henry & Cie, circa 1855, 22 (of 32, without: Q, 10-9 spades; J diamonds; J, 9-8 clubs; 10, 8-7 hearts) stencil coloured lithographed playing cards (French suits), each card with a miniature standard French pattern card to two corners (single figure named courts), the captioned cards depict members of Napoleon III's new imperial army, some brown toning and spotting, Q clubs with small brown stain to upper right corner, square corners (lightly rounded from use), versos plain white, each card 77 x 51 mm, together with Characters pack, Pont à Mousson: Marcel Vagné, circa 1890, the complete piquet deck of 32 stencil coloured lithographed playing cards (French suits), each with miniature non-standard playing card to upper left, and depicting a named character from literature, nursery rhymes or a national character, ace of hearts with maker's details, generally toned, slight wear to few edges or corners, K clubs with tiny edge tear, square corners, versos plain 'white', each card approximately 80 x 58 mm, all cards mounted with photo corners onto 2 display boards (42 x 59 cm and smaller), encapsulated in clear plastic (not examined out of boards)

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

First item: The only reference to this unusual deck we have found is in the MGM Joker KG catalogue for November 1992: Collection Gene Hochman Part II, #76. Napoleon III created his new Imperial Guard in 1854.

Second item: We have found no other examples of this deck. Marcel Vagné (1842-1901) took over the large Haguenthal imaging printing house in Pont-à-Mousson (Moselle) in 1880, where he produced mainly games for children. Apparently his works were known for being poor quality in both design and creation - Dudley Ollis noted that these cards are printed on 'poor friable stock'. The various characters portrayed in this pack include: Chinois, Cadet Roussel, Robinson Crusoe, Negre, Don Quixote, Colombine, and others. The miniature court cards show single figure jacks, but the kings and queens are busts of named French royalty.

344* French playing cards. Spanish National Pattern, Paris: B.P. Grimaud, circa 1900, a complete deck of 48 stencil coloured lithographed playing cards (Spanish suits), all single figure courts and ace of coins with maker's details, 2 of swords with tax stamp, lightly toned and dusty, few minor marks, 2 of clubs somewhat soiled, indices, square corners, versos small blue pattern, each card 95 x 62 mm, together with 36 other French packs, including two circa 1910: G. Jouin of Paris, Belgian pattern for export, and B.P. Grimaud English pattern (Whist no.1000), the remainder all second half 20th century, comprising: Memoires de Casanova de Seingalt, by Philibert of Paris; 3 packs by Arts et Lettres of Nancy; 5 packs by J.C. Dusserre of Paris (one made by Boechat Freres); 3 packs by Catel et Farcy of Paris; 1 pack each by Draeger Freres, by Miro, and by Willeb, all of Paris; and 19 packs by B.P. Grimaud, all marked as complete (not checked), a quantity of cards from each deck mounted with photo corners onto 35 display boards (two encapsulated in clear plastic), none examined out of boards, the remainder in plastic bags, most with original box, each board 59.5 x 42 cm and smaller

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

Twietmeyer, circa 1877, a complete deck of 52 colour lithographed oval playing cards (French suits) designed by Fedor Flinzer, double-ended courts representing learning (hearts), war (spades), trade (diamonds) and farming (clubs), jack spades with imprint, ace hearts with Leipzig tax stamp, lightly toned, variable brown marks or spotting, slightly bowed, gilt edges, versos blue hexagons, each card 104 x 68 mm, with original two-part box (lid lacking part of its lip), together with: Belle Alliance pack, Leipzig: Industrie-Comptoir, circa 1816, a complete skat deck of 32 stencil coloured engraved playing cards (German suits), commemorating the war of liberation from Napoleon, single figure courts representing the allied armies, 7 hearts with Industrie-Comptoir, various other captions mainly regarding battles, dusty and spotted, 7H with crease, corners a little rounded from use, versos pattern of small blue squares, each card 90 x 51 mm, plus: German Unity pack, Stralsund: Vereinigte Stralsunder Spielkartenfabriken, 1915, a complete skat deck of 32 chromolithographed playing cards (German suits), 7 & 8 cards depicting named warships, all others cards portraying named German leaders and royalty, imprint on unter of acorns, Stralsund tax stamp on daus of hearts, lightly dusty, some minor toning and scarce spots, ober of bells & daus of leaves with corner crease, rounded corners, versos green pattern of Iron Crosses with central title, each card 102 x 58 mm, with 9 others German decks, including one by F.A. Lattman of Goslar, circa 1885, Whistkarten no.2 with scenic aces, and 8 by Dondorf: Tarok no.245; Club-Karte (between variant 1 & 2); Standardbild variant 2a; whist no.150; Wahrsage-Karten (no.1, also called Cartes Lenormand) variant 2; playing cards no.172; whist no.174 Costumes Suisses; No.110 L'hombre Karten, all believed complete (not checked), the Lenormand deck with two accompanying booklets (one German & one French, five with original box, a quantity of cards from each deck mounted with photo corners (or other non-adhesive method) onto 14 display boards (54.5 x 40 cm and similar), encapsulated in clear plastic (none examined out of boards), one board double and folding, the remaining cards in plastic bags

First item: British Museum 1896,0501.431 (Schreiber, German 236); Bube Dame König (1982) 153; Cary, GER 583; Fournier, Germanic 95. This oval pack is more commonly found as a 32 card deck.

Second item: Cary, GER 386; Hoffman 75 a); Verame (1989) p.101 (uncoloured); World of Playing Cards webpage (Victory Deck). There seems to be two slightly different editions of this pack: ours agrees with those in Hoffman and Verame. The other version has the initials F.M.G. on the 7 of hearts (instead of Industrie-Comptoir) - for Friedrich Gotthelf Baumgärtner who was the owner of the Industrie Comptoir in Leipzig.

Third item: Bube Dame König (1982) 109.

347* German playing cards. Wahrsag Spiel Fur Damen (Ladies Fortune Telling Game), Stuttgart: F.G. Schulz, circa 1830, the complete deck of 32 hand-coloured lithographed playing cards (French suits), each with miniature French pattern playing card to upper left, the cards depict various characters and scenes, with captions beneath, plus a blank white card, toned and dusty, some light finger-soiling, few minor brown marks or stains, cards very slightly bowed, square corners, versos plain pink, each card 93 x 58 mm, with explanatory booklet and original pictorial box (possibly lacking an inner part of slipcase), 20 cards mounted with photo corners onto a display board (54.5 x 40 cm), encapsulated in clear plastic (none examined out of board), the remainder in a plastic bag

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

Friedrich Gustav Schulz was a lithography publisher who was active in Stuttgart between 1820-1865. We have found no other playing cards by this publisher, and no other examples of this charming fortune telling deck. The accompanying booklet explains a couple of different games using these cards (with the blank white card an integral part) and also lists what each card represents.

355* Jewish playing cards. Artistic Palestine Play-Cards, Jerusalem: Duchifat Press, circa 1920, 51 (of 52, without 6 of menorahs) colour lithographed playing cards, designed by Ze'ev Raban, suits are menorahs, fig leaves, pomegranates, and stars of David, single figure courts depicting named Biblical and other Jewish characters, the acidic cardstock is toned, 7 of pomegranates a trifle stained, square corners, versos green design of zodiac signs, each card 81 x 58 mm, with original wrapper front panel, made from a section of blank postcard (5mm tear to upper corner, ink mark to left figure), 16 cards mounted with photo corners onto a display board (54.5 x 39 cm), encapsulated in clear plastic (not examined out of board), the remainder in a plastic bag

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

Jewish Museum accession number: F 4561.

Ze'ev Raban studied in Poland and Germany before moving to Jerusalem in 1912. There he joined the Bezalel Academy where he was an important teacher and prolific artist. This pack was later modified and republished with French suits as Jacob's Bible Cards.

The wrapper front panel gives the title and imprint in Hebrew. The missing back panel would have provided the same information in English, including the title given above.

356* Puerto Rican playing cards. Political cards 'Barajas Alacran', Taller Alacran in San Juan: Antonio Martorell, circa 1965, the complete deck of 52 (plus 2 jokers) playing cards, printed in red and blue, with indices, suit signs represent Puerto Rican political groups: coconut palm with falling fruit (blue), white 5-pointed star on red, hand holding staff & blue flag with white cross, silhouette of a head wearing a peasant's hat (red), double-ended courts and single-headed aces representing party leaders and other political characters, with various objects incorporated into the designs, ace of coconut palms has Made in U.S.A., jokers depicts a full-length caricature of Lyndon Johnson, then president of the United States, generally toned, few faint corner creases, rounded corners, versos blue with white design including the suit signs and two scorpions incorporating the words Barajas alacran, each card 89 x 63 mm, with original wrapper (some losses), stating Printed in Puerto Rico and the maker's details, 20 cards and the wrapper corner mounted onto a display board (59 x 42 cm), encapsulated in clear plastic (not examined out of display board), the remainder in a plastic bag

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

Orzack & Orzack: Political Playing-Cards: American Examples, in The Playing-Card, vol. XI, no. 2, Nov 1982, pp. 33-49.

These extremely rare cards were designed and issued by Antonio Martorell and published by his studio and community art centre Taller Alacran. According to Dudley Ollis' note, Ollis was told by Louis Orzack that he (Orzack) had met Antonio Martorell and been presented with a pack of these cards. However shortly afterwards the police in Puerto Rico seized and destroyed all stocks of the cards. Orzack believed that the only packs still in existence were his own and a pack saved by the artist, which is now displayed in the Puerto Rico Museo de Arte de Ponce. Therefore this apparently escaped example, found by Dudley Ollis at a London antiques fair, would seem to be one of only three examples that have survived.

The cards support the movement for independence from the United States. The Spanish word alacran means scorpion, and refers to the United States and its hold over the island. The four suits represent: coconut palms with fruit = New Progressive Party, hand with flag = Independentista movement, white star on red = Communist Party, profile head = Popular Democratic Party. This profile head is believed to be that of Governor Muñoz-Marín.

357* Translucent playing cards. Erotic translucent deck, France or Germany?, circa 1865, 14 (of 32?) stencil coloured engraved playing cards (French suits), unusual single figure courts depicting characters of different nationalities, each card (including pip cards) with a hidden stencil-coloured erotic image, gilt edges, square corners, versos plain white, each card 80 x 49 mm, all cards mounted with photo corners onto a display board with cutouts (39 x 54.5 cm), encapsulated in clear plastic (none examined out of board)

Provenance: Collection of Dudley Ollis.

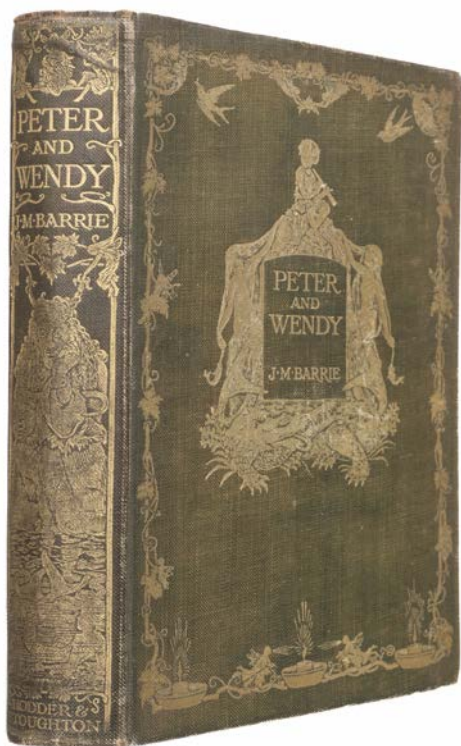

Han Janssen (1985), p.267 (illustrated), where they are described as French, but a very slightly different edition to ours. Dudley Ollis however lists them as possibly German in origin.

The cards present comprise: king, queen, jack, ace, 8-10 of clubs; king & 9 of diamonds; jack & 9 of spades; queen, 9-10 of hearts.

In Translucent Playing-cards, Trevor Denning (p.47) states that he has found no other translucent court cards beyond the 'standard' design illustrated in his book. All other translucent erotic cards he has seen have been pip cards only, making this a rare example.

INFORMATION FOR BUYERS

AFTER THE AUCTION

Online Results: If you weren't present or able to follow the auction live, you can find results for the sale on our website shortly after the sale has ended.

Payment: The price you pay is the amount at which the auctioneer's hammer falls (the hammer price), plus a buyer's premium (a percentage of the final hammer price) and vat where applicable. You will be issued with an invoice made out to the name and address provided on your registration form.

Please note successful bids made via live bidding cannot be invoiced or paid for until the day after an auction. A live bidding fee of 3% + VAT (Dominic Winter / Invaluable) or 4.95% + VAT (the-saleroom) will be added to your invoice.

METHODS OF PAYMENT

Cheque: Cheques will only be accepted on the day of the sale by prior arrangement (please contact our office for further information). Cheques by post will be accepted but a period of 5 working days will be required for the cheque to clear before purchases can be collected or posted.

Cash: Payments can be made at the Cashier's Office, either during or after the sale.

Debit Card: There is no additional charge for purchases made with debit cards in the UK.

Credit Cards: We accept Visa and Mastercard. It is advisable to let your card provider know in advance if you are intending to purchase. This reduces the time needed to obtain authorisation when the payment is made.

Bank Transfer: All transfers must state the relevant invoice number. If transferring from a foreign currency, the amount we receive must be the total due after the currency conversion and the deduction of any bank charges.

Note to Overseas Clients: All payments must be made by bank transfer only. No card payments will be accepted unless by special prior arrangements with the auctioneers.

Collection/Postage/Delivery: If you attend the auction in person and are successful in your bid, you are free to collect your item once payment has been made.

Successful commission or live bids will be invoiced to you the day after the sale. When it is possible for our in-house packing department to send your purchase(s), a charge for postage/packing/insurance will be included in your invoice. Where it is not possible for our in-house packing department to send your item you will be required to make your own arrangements or to contact Mailboxes etc (tel: 01793 525009) or Pack and Send (tel: 01635 887237) who may be able to help.

We provide a monthly delivery service to Central London, usually on Wednesday of the week following an auction. Payment must be received before this option can be requested. A charge will be added to your invoice for this service.

ARTIST'S RESALE RIGHT LAW ("DROIT DE SUITE")

Lots marked with AR next to the lot number may be subject to Droit de Suite.

Droit de Suite is payable on the hammer price of any artwork sold in the lifetime of the artist, or within 70 years of the artist's death. The buyer agrees to pay Dominic Winter Auctioneers Ltd. an amount equal to the resale royalty and we will pay such amount to the artist's collecting agent. Resale royalty applies where the Hammer price is £1,000 or more and the amount cannot be more than £12,500 per lot.

The amount is calculated as follows:

Royalty	For the Portion of the Hammer Price (in GBP)
4.00%	up to 50,000
3.00%	between 50,000.01 and 200,000
1.00%	between 200,000.01 and 350,000
0.50%	between 350,000.01 and 500,000

Please refer to the DACS website www.dacs.org.uk and the Artists' Collecting Society website www.artistscollectingsociety.org for further details.

CONDITIONS OF SALE AND BUSINESS

1. The Seller warrants to the Auctioneer and the buyer that he is the true owner or is properly authorised to sell the property by the true owner and is able to transfer good and marketable title to the property free from any third party claims.
2. (a) The highest bidder to be the buyer. If during the auction the Auctioneer considers that a dispute has arisen he has absolute authority to settle it or re-offer the lot. The Auctioneer may at his sole discretion determine the advance of bidding or refuse a bid, divide any lot, combine any two or more lots or withdraw any lot without prior notice.
(b) Where goods are bought at auction by a buyer who has entered into an agreement with another or others that the other or others (or some of them) shall abstain from bidding for the goods and the buyer or other party or one of the other parties is a dealer (as defined in the Auction Biddings Agreement Act 1927) the buyer warrants that the goods are bought bona fide on joint account.
3. The buyer shall pay the price at which a lot is knocked down by the Auctioneer to the buyer ("the hammer price") together with a premium of 20% of the hammer price. Where the lot is marked by an asterisk the premium will be subject to VAT at 20% which under the Auctioneer's Margin Scheme will form part of the buyer's premium on our invoice and will not be separately identified (the premium added to the hammer price will hereafter collectively be referred to as "the total sum due"). By making any bid the buyer acknowledges that his attention has been drawn to the fact that on the sale of any lot the Auctioneer will receive from the seller commission at its usual rates in addition to the said premium of 20% and assents to the Auctioneer receiving the said commission.
4. (a) The buyer shall forthwith upon the purchase give in his name and permanent address and pay to the Auctioneer immediately after the conclusion of the auction the total sum due.
(b) The buyer may be required to pay down during the course of the sale the whole or any part of the total sum due, and if he fails to do so after such request the lot or lots may at the Auctioneer's absolute discretion be put up again and resold immediately.
(c) The buyer shall at his own expense take away any lot or lots purchased no later than five working days after the auction day.
(d) The Auctioneer may at his own discretion agree credit terms with a buyer and extend the time limits for collection in special cases but otherwise payment shall be deemed to have been made only after the Auctioneer has received cash or a sterling banker's draft or the buyer's cheque has been cleared.
5. (a) If the buyer fails to pay for or take away any lot or lots pursuant to clause 4 or breaches any other condition of that clause the Auctioneer as agent for the seller shall be entitled after consultation with the seller to exercise one or other of the following rights:
(i) Rescind the sale of that or any other lots sold to the buyer who defaults and re-sell the lot or lots whereupon the defaulting buyer shall pay to the Auctioneer any shortfall between the proceeds of that sale after deduction of costs of re-sale and the total sum due. Any surplus shall belong to the seller.
(ii) Proceed for damages for breach of contract.
(b) Without prejudice to the Auctioneer's rights hereunder if any lots or lots are not collected within five days or such longer period as the Auctioneer may have agreed otherwise, the Auctioneer may charge the buyer a storage charge of £1.00 + VAT at the current rate per lot per day.
(c) Ownership of the lot purchased shall not pass to the buyer until he has paid to the Auctioneer the total sum due.
6. (a) The seller shall be entitled to place a reserve on any lot and the Auctioneer shall have the right to bid on behalf of the seller for any lot on which a reserve has been placed. A seller may not bid on any lot on which a reserve has been placed.
(b) Where any lot fails to sell, the Auctioneer shall notify the seller accordingly. The seller shall make arrangements either to re-offer the lot for sale or to collect the lot and may be asked to pay a commission not exceeding 50% of the selling commission and any special expenses incurred in cataloguing the lot.
(c) If such arrangements are not made within seven days of the notification the Auctioneer is empowered to sell the lot by auction or by private treaty at not less than the reserve price and to receive from the seller the normal selling commission and special expenses.
7. Any representation or statement by the Auctioneer in any catalogue, brochure or advertisement of forthcoming sales as to authorship, attribution, genuineness, origin, date, age, provenance, condition or estimated selling price is a statement of opinion only. Every person interested should exercise and rely on his own judgement as to such matters and neither the Auctioneer nor his servants or agents are responsible for the correctness of such opinions. No warranty whatsoever is given by the Auctioneer or the seller in respect of any lot and any express or implied warranties are hereby excluded.
8. (a) Notwithstanding any other terms of these conditions, if within fourteen days of the sale the Auctioneer has received from the buyer of any lot notice in writing that in his view the lot is a deliberate forgery and within fourteen days after such notification the buyer returns the same to the Auctioneer in the same condition as at the time of the sale and satisfies the Auctioneer that considered in the light of the entry in the catalogue the lot is a deliberate forgery then the sale of the lot will be rescinded and the purchase price of the same refunded. "A deliberate forgery" means a lot made with intention to deceive.
(b) A buyer's claim under this condition shall be limited to any amount paid to the Auctioneer for the lot and for the purpose of this condition the buyer shall be the person to whom the original invoice was made out by the Auctioneer.
9. Lots may be removed during the sale after full settlement in accordance with 4(d) hereof.
10. All goods delivered to the Auctioneer's premises will be deemed to be delivered for sale by auction unless otherwise stated in writing and will be catalogued and sold at the Auctioneer's discretion and accepted by the Auctioneer subject to all these conditions. In the case of miscellaneous books, the Auctioneer reserves the right to extract and dispose of books that, in the opinion of the Auctioneer at his absolute discretion, have no saleable value and, therefore, might detract from the saleability of the rest of the lot and the Auctioneer shall incur no liability to the seller, in respect of the books disposed of. By delivering the goods to the Auctioneer for inclusion in his auction sales each seller acknowledges that he/she accepts and agrees to all the conditions.
11. (a) Unless otherwise instructed in writing all goods on the Auctioneer's premises and in their custody will be held insured against the risks of fire, burglary, water damage and accidental breakage or damage. The value of the goods so covered will be the hammer price, or in the case of unsold lots the lower estimate, or in the case of loss or damage prior to the sale that which the specialised staff of the Auctioneer shall in their absolute discretion estimate to be the auction value of such goods.
(b) The Auctioneer shall not be responsible for damage to or the loss, theft, or destruction of any goods not so insured because of the owner's written instructions.
12. The Auctioneer shall remit the proceeds of the sale to the seller thirty days after the day of the auction provided that the Auctioneer has received the total sum due from the buyer. In all other cases the Auctioneer will remit the proceeds of the sale to the seller within seven days of the receipt by the Auctioneer of the total sum due. The Auctioneer will not be deemed to have received the total sum due until after any cheque delivered by the buyer has been cleared. In the event of the Auctioneer exercising his right to rescind the sale his obligation to the seller hereunder lapses.
13. In the case of the seller withdrawing instructions to the Auctioneer to sell any lot or lots, the Auctioneer may charge a fee of 12.5% of the Auctioneer's middle estimate of the auction price of the lot withdrawn together with Value Added Tax thereon and any expenses incurred in respect of the lot or lots.
14. The Auctioneer's current standard notices and information (i.e. Collation and Amendments) will apply to any contract with the Auctioneer as if incorporated herein.
15. These conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English Law.
